NINE NOW IN RACE TO SUCCEED BRAND

Pat Kennedy, Augusta, Latest Aspirant to Congress Vacancy.

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 24.—(P)—Entrance of Pat H. Kennedy, Augusta lawyer and real estate man, into the race for congress from the Tenth Georgia district to succeed the late Charles H. Brand, of Athens, today brought the number of candidates to nine.

Kennedy's announcement brought to five the number of candidates from this city in the race. Representatives James L. Carleidge and Roy Harris, William Condon, attorney, and A. Dwight Dean, druggist, all of Augusta, previously announced.

The other announced candidates are Miles Collier, of Madison county; Mayor D. Talmadge Bowers, of Canon; Paul Brown, of Elberton attorney, and Mrs. A. R. Shivers, of Norwood.

The election will be July 5.

ABIT NIX NOT TO RUN FOR CONGRESS, HE SAYS

ATHENS, Ga., May 24.—(P)—Abit Nix, runner-up to Governor Talmadge in the gubernatorial race last fall, today announced he would not seek the office of congressman from the Tenth district.

Nix said that many had urged him to enter the race to succeed the late Charles H. Brand, but that "other friends within the district and hundreds of friends scattered over the state have urged me not to enter the race for any office which would take me without the state and the progress of the new Tenth district of Georgia."

It is understood in political circles that Mr. Nix will be a candidate for governor in the next general election.

BOWERS URGES REPEAL OF PROHIBITION LAWS

CANON, Ga., May 24.—Mayor D. Talmadge Bowers, of this city, in a formal statement issued today concerning his candidacy for congress to succeed the late Judge Charles H. Brand, states that he advocates complete repeal of the prohibition laws, 18th amendment and the Volstead act. He also advocates federal aid for the public schools. His statement in full follows:

"Editor Constitution: I have registered with the secretary of state as a candidate for congress to succeed the late Charles H. Brand, in filling his unexpired term as congressman for the new Tenth district of Georgia.

"With the very highest regard and most profound respect for our veteran and amiable congressman, the deceased Charles H. Brand, whose official life was one of continuous service to his friends and constituents, both in Washington and in his home office, I offer myself as a substitute for election at the hands of the voters of the new Tenth Congressional district, and in doing so, I try to do very best of my ability and skill to serve the people somewhat and to some degree in the same satisfactory manner as this able and veteran jurist would have served them had he been permitted to live and serve his term actively and unblemished by affliction and death.

"My mind is continually absorbed in the affairs of our nation and our national government—their deficiencies and the remedial repeals and enactments by the American congress necessary to relieve the American people of the distressing circumstances, such as the national treasury deficit, the unemployment, the economic depression, the miseries and suffering, the overstock of unsalable products of our American people far below cost of production and sale, and, at least, the once high morale of our country is being dragged down and trodden under foot by racketeers, gangsters and bootleggers because of the enactment of laws, unenforceable and unjust laws, which should be repealed and substituted with sane, sound, just and enforceable laws based on common sense and reason.

"I stand openly and fearlessly for a complete repeal of the so-called prohibition laws, 18th amendment and the Volstead act, which have been a curse and a scourge to our nation and have robbed our state and national treasuries of untold millions of dollars, while racketeers and bootleggers have lounged and wallowed in wealth and millions.

"I stand for federal aid to our public school system, which has been had at once or our public schools cannot longer last and the teachers be paid for their work. It is a most pathetic shame that we are spending millions on highways, while the bright youth of our land, the ones who will be the leaders of our nation tomorrow, are neglected and allowed to grow up in their illiteracy and ignorance, making criminals and law violators.

"There are other major problems concerning the duty of a congressman which I will express myself as advocating later in this campaign.

"D. TALMADGE BOWERS."

CATARRH MUCUS OFTEN CAUSES SINUS INFECTION

There's danger in sinus infection, as well as pain and trouble is often brought about by catarrh mucus backing up into the little sinus pockets. This can often be prevented by free drainage of the nasal passages. Penetro Nose and Throat Drops assures free drainage. It contains ephedrine which shrinks the swollen nasal tissues, ends mucus clogged conditions and permits free, easy breathing. Two generous sizes: 25c and 50c.

Family Leaves Porch When Bluebirds Nest

GAINESVILLE, Ga., May 24.—(P)—Nobody sits on the front porch at the home of A. M. Hughes this summer, for the proximity of a family of bluebirds living in the mailbox.

Mr. Hughes built another box some distance away and gave the postman strict orders to stay away from the old one.

The porch has been deserted since the Hughes family observed the mother bird and her mate would not approach the mailbox with food for their three young ones while anybody was in sight.

Congress Candidate

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(P)—More than 40 mayors of large cities voted late tonight to present to congressional leaders a description couched in bristling terms of the plight of American municipalities.

Discouraged and angry at what they called a cool reception by President Roosevelt of their proposal for relief of financially distressed cities, the delegates to the conference of mayors instructed their executive committee to prepare a strongly worded resolution for presentation to administration and congressional chiefs tomorrow.

Earlier in the day the mayors adopted a resolution endorsing a pending bill to expand the bankruptcy act to insolvent cities, and recommending legislation authorizing the Federal Reserve bank or the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make loans to municipalities upon tax anticipation warrants.

Specifically, the mayors seek to borrow from the national treasury at a low interest rate up to 75 per cent on tax anticipation warrants for 1933 and up to 50 per cent of tax delinquencies up to 1932, the loans to be repaid in two years.

Mayor James M. Curley, of Boston, president of the conference, and other executives expressed belief that unless such assistance was forthcoming the cities could no longer function.

A second resolution offered by Mayor Ray Miller, of Cleveland, adopted by a one-vote margin, favored federal loans to states and cities for financing projects under President Roosevelt's public works program.

"Otherwise," Miller said, "the cities of Ohio will be unable to participate in President Roosevelt's public works program to relieve unemployment and restore prosperity."

The resolutions adopted by the president were presented to the president by a committee comprising Mayors Curley, Hoan, of Milwaukee; Walmesley, of New Orleans; Sparks, of Akron; Houston, of Houston; and Lawrence J. Fenlon, representing Mayor Kelly, of Chicago. The men said President Roosevelt was favorably inclined to the bankruptcy bill, but was unable to give his approval to the other recommendations.

Their report brought a motion to present in unmistakable terms the opinion of the assembled mayors that the crisis confronting the larger municipalities endangered the entire economic structure of the nation.

"We are asking for nothing that has not been granted to banks, insurance companies and other private corporations," Mayor Hoan said.

'CHEMICAL WARFARE' LECTURE AT ATHENS

ATHENS, Ga., May 24.—Major Victor C. Parks, fourth corps area chemical officer, now stationed at Fort McPherson, will give a lecture on "Chemical Warfare: Its Past Use and Development," at the University of Georgia Thursday at 5 p. m.

A moving picture will be shown by Major Parks in connection with his lecture to illustrate the various phases of chemical warfare. The picture shows the use of these chemicals by troops in World War I, and is primarily with the use of the smoke screen, the use of chemicals by airplanes, and the defense against chemical agents as taught to the soldiers.

Three Persons Hurt In Truck-Auto Crash

Three persons were slightly injured and an automobile and truck badly damaged Wednesday morning in a crash at Luckie and Alexander streets.

According to police reports, an Indianapolis laundry truck driven by R. F. Parham, 271 Millidge avenue, S. E., struck a sedan driven by Dr. B. G. Hohenes, of 300 Ponce de Leon. Dr. Hohenes was driving west on Alexander and the truck was going north on Luckie. Dr. Hohenes was injured about the back, and his brother, A. Hohenes, injured about the head. Neither went to a hospital.

Leonard Williams, negro, riding in the laundry truck, received lacerations and bruises and went to Grady. Both truck and sedan were overturned in the collision.

Cases of reckless driving were made against Dr. Hohenes and Parham by Patrolmen W. D. Wallace and S. L. Ivey and set for a hearing in recorders' court at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

COTTON RATE HEARING CALLED FOR JULY 24

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 24.—(P)—Claims of the Augusta cotton exchange that discriminations exist in freight rates applied to shipments between the city and South Carolina points will be given a hearing by the interstate commerce commission here July 24.

The exchange charges the railroads have established rates in South Carolina between interior points and concentration centers that are lower than those applied to shipments from the same points to Augusta.

STEAMSHIP OFFICIAL FOUND FATALLY SHOT

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 24.—(P)—Abner G. Jackson, 47, traffic manager for the South Atlantic Steamship Line, of Savannah, was found fatally wounded in the basement of the cotton exchange last night with a pistol at his side.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. E. D. Delaney, New York city, and Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Savannah; his mother, Mrs. A. G. Jackson Sr., of Augusta, and three sisters, Mrs. A. H. Wallon, Atlanta, Mrs. Charles Bell and Miss Louise Jackson, both of Augusta. Mr. Jackson was a member of St. John's Methodist church at Augusta.

Mrs. Jelke Cross-Examined, Reiterates Charge of Abuse

NEWPORT, R. I., May 24.—(P)—Presentation of Mrs. Eugenia Woodward Jelke's cross-examination for a divorce from her husband, F. Francis Jelke, of Newport and New York, neared its close in Newport county superior court today when Mrs. Jelke testified for three and one-half hours of cross-examination at the hands of Charles P. Sisson, counsel for Mr. Jelke.

Quick to answer, still quicker at sharp retort as Mr. Sisson shot questions that drew out the most intimate details of her private life, the former Alabama society girl insisted upon her charge that her husband had beaten her, cursed her and generally mistreated her during nine months of marriage.

As court adjourned today, counsel for Mrs. Jelke were preparing to close their case with depositions of three Birmingham (Ala.) policemen, designated to impeach Mrs. E. F. Warner Bailey, one of the chief witnesses in Mr. Jelke's case.

Reading of depositions will be started tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and is expected to complete Mrs. Jelke's case. Mr. Sisson, Clark Burdick and William A. Peckham, counsel for Mr. Jelke, are expected to introduce some three or four witnesses in rebuttal.

Specifically, Mrs. Sisson's cross-examination this afternoon, Mrs. Jelke freely admitted that last year she told Luke Doyle, a mutual friend, that she wanted her differences with Mr. Jelke settled in a civil manner and that she wanted to her a civilized manner meant a divorce and an allowance of from $25,000 to $30,000 a year.

"I saw no reason why he should throw me out and get away with it," she said, frankly, "I had tried to get a reconciliation."

Making the last reference to the charge of misconduct on the part of Mrs. Jelke with Robert White in New York last August, Mr. Sisson obtained from Mrs. Jelke the statement that she arose at 8 o'clock on the morning of August 3 at her hotel, and that that was an unusually early hour. She usually arose about 11, she said.

She said she joined Mr. White and drove with him to Douglass, La. 1, and then to Long Branch, N. J., with some "merchandise" which was carried in the rumble seat.

"When did you first know that Mr. Jelke charged you with wrongdoing on the night of August 2?" asked Mr. Sisson.

"When he told me," said Mrs. Jelke. "I thought he had gone out of his mind."

She said she told Mr. and Mrs. Reddy last before her marriage that she realized Mr. Jelke was 50 years old and she was much younger, but that she was going to try to adjust herself to his mode of living.

That Mr. Jelke would have taken her back after the separation in September, 1931, if she had said she was sorry for past occurrences, she said her husband wanted her to sign a paper that he was 100 per cent right and she was 100 per cent wrong, "and I would not put that in writing."

She admitted she talked with Doyle many times about her affairs, saying, "he posed as a great friend of mine."

Presbyterians of 17 States Gather for Montreat Session

MONTREAT, N. C., May 24.—(P)—With many difficult problems to be considered, including a possible re-hearing of the Rev. Hay Watson Smith doctrinal case, the seventy-third annual assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States will convene here tomorrow.

Headed by Dr. William Crowe, of St. Louis, Mo., moderator, the assembly of the official delegates, many of whom are arriving here tonight from the 17 states embraced by the southern division of the Presbyterian church.

Election of a successor to Dr. Crowe will be the first business matter before the assembly. There is no campaigning for the office, but it is generally believed that this year the moderator will come from the eastern section, as Dr. Crowe is from the west.

The Rev. Ernest Thompson, of Chattanooga, W. Va., one of the most prominent representatives, was among today's arrivals. Dr. Thompson was nominated for moderator last year. He was, until its abolition in 1931, chairman of the assembly's important work committee for many years.

It was at the 1931 assembly that the case of Dr. Smith, Little Rock, Ark., in a civil suit brought before the assembly.

Two ministers of the Arkansas Presbytery, the Rev. J. E. Junkin and the Rev. A. Kilgough, questioned the soundness of Dr. Smith's faith and doctrine after the Little Rock clergyman had published an article on evolution.

The assembly sent the case back to the synod. The Arkansas ministers, dissatisfied with the synod's action in the case, have filed notice with the assembly that they intend to bring it before the higher body again. It probably will not be reached before Friday.

Resumption of membership in the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America is another problem that will be before the commissioners. The Greenbrier Presbytery has filed an overture with the assembly asking that the question be handed down to the Presbyteries for decision. Similar overtures have been filed by other Presbyteries.

Prohibition will come up for discussion on an overture from the Nashville Presbytery asking the assembly to adopt a resolution urging the maintenance of observance and enforcement of the prohibition laws. The overture set out that it is the Presbytery's opinion that "gospel temperance and total abstinence should be synonymous" except when whisky is prescribed by a physician. Even then, the resolution says, the Presbytery believes "abstinence" should be used.

Overtures from other Presbyteries asking economy and consideration of a number of church questions.

Brantley's Only Barefoot Man Takes Blame for Miss Perkins

NAHUNTA, Ga., May 24.—Stirred by the article in The Constitution that Miss Frances Perkins, labor secretary of the United States, thought the south barefoot, an investigation here revealed that among the adult inhabitants of Brantley none went without shoes, and was in haste to defend the town and says he "won't wear them, regardless of the important social contribution they make."

He was at the courthouse here Tuesday and commented on his good health and utter disregard of shoes. Mr. Guy fears that the secretary of labor found her statement on the fact he goes shoeless winter and summer, and was in haste to defend the town and says he "won't wear them, regardless of the important social contribution they make."

Wonder City Unveiled to Guests In 'Preview' of Big Exposition

CHICAGO, May 24.—(P)—A wonder city that only five years ago entered the blue print stage—the setting of the World's Fair—was unveiled today before a few score guests.

The city of the future, thought the gigantic exposition that has its world's premiere Saturday. Fair officials, exhibitors and representatives of the press saw at the dress rehearsal the fair as it will be for five months.

They saw on a plot of ground 424 acres in size an array of exhibits 22 miles in length, representing man's stride during the past century in the fields of industry, arts and sciences.

More than 120 buildings, of all shapes, sizes and colors, made up the exposition city. Miles of highway wound through it. Motorboats chugged across the lagoon that divides the metropolis in two main sections.

A city built to endure, constructed during a period of economic recessions from a strip of rock and sand along the shore of Lake Michigan.

The tour of the city was made on land, by water and in the air.

From the top of the skyride towers the city stretched out like a mosaic, in brilliant splendor of green, yellow and red, the lagoon sombre in contrast.

The huge buses that will carry World Fair visitors on the summer car ride, reviewers on their inspection trip of the grounds, discharging them at the main exhibition halls.

In the halls the exhibits were practically as footle as the road. They were through their paces at the official opening the morning of May 27. Most of them are dynamic and moving, covering all phases of human endeavor, and representing processes as well as products.

There are 12,000 exhibits in 60 buildings and they are valued at $6,000,000. The cost of food, dealers of the grounds, is estimated at approximately $25,000,000.

MODIFICATION ASKED OF REVISED COAL RATE

Reconsideration, modification and postponement of the effective date of an order of the Georgia public service commission revising rates on coal between points within this state has been asked by the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway coal operators at a conference at Nashville, Tenn.

The commission, investigating a complaint of the Durham Land Company, which operates a coal mine at Durham, Ga., in the northwestern corner of Georgia, ordered a reduction of rates to a large number of points in Georgia.

The company at Durham, says Chairman James A. Perry, of the commission, is the only coal mine in Georgia. He said it is claimed by the Tennessee coal mine operators that the rate reduction would result in "serious discrimination against Tennessee mines in favor of the Georgia mine."

Records of the Tennessee operators shows that the rate from Durham to Chickamauga has been reduced from 79 cents to 59 cents per ton, and from Durham to Rome to 104 cents to 84 cents per ton. The rate from Durham to Dalton is $1.20 per ton, and from Durham to Dalton from $1.87 to $1.70 per ton. Chairman Perry said.

Mr. Perry said the commission's investigation showed there are approximately 900,000,000 tons of coal in the vicinity of Durham to be developed. "The development has been seriously handicapped" on account of the freight rates in effect prior to the commission's reduction order.

SAVANNAH MAN HEADS RETAIL FOOD DEALERS

MACON, Ga., May 24.—(P)—A. J. Orsini, of Savannah, was elected president of the Retail Food Dealers of Georgia in their annual convention today.

This election came after the office had been voted to Lester Gray, Macon grocer, who declined it because of personal business affairs.

Others elected were S. A. Camp, Atlanta, vice president; M. M. Bulard, Atlanta, treasurer; Rev. F. L. Church, of Atlanta, secretary. The secretary is appointed, S. D. Mullinax, Atlanta, is now serving in that office.

The following were elected directors: F. J. Carreker, Griffin; E. F. Brantley, Augusta; J. B. Barger, Atlanta; J. H. Merritt, Atlanta; H. H. Anderson, Savannah, and M. A. Watkins, Columbus.

ATHENS DEDICATES DORMITORY TODAY

Judge Sibley To Speak at Exercises for New Brown Dormitory.

ATHENS, Ga., May 24.—The new Joseph E. Brown dormitory at the University of Georgia will be dedicated at 10:30 Thursday morning with exercises in the university chapel, followed by an inspection of the building.

Judge Samuel H. Sibley, of the United States court of appeals, will give an address, "Joseph E. Brown and His Times."

The exercises will open with a faculty procession in academic costume, followed by a musical program in charge of Hugh Hodgson, director of music at the university.

Members of the Brown family will be guests of the university.

The Joseph E. Brown dormitory was completed last year to house 140 students. It was erected with funds lent by the Charles McDonald Brown fund and named in honor of Joseph E. Brown, late governor of Georgia, United States senator and university trustee for more than a quarter of a century. He was donor of the Charles McDonald Brown fund.

Council Traffic Body Will Meet on June 1

ATLANTA'S TRAFFIC ACCIDENT RECORD.

Year	Accidents	Injuries	Deaths
1932	1,100	1,200	100
1933 to date	1,050	1,100	90
1932 to date	1,050	1,100	90

Compiled by Atlanta Traffic and Safety League and Junior Chamber of Commerce.

As traffic accidents in Atlanta continued to mount and the educational drive was pushed forward, Councilman William G. Hastings, chairman of the traffic committee of council, Wednesday called the committee into session at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, June 1, to approve a drivers' license law for the city.

To date there is a total of 26 deaths from accidents in Atlanta, as against 22 for last year, and a total of 492 injured as compared to 472 for the same period last year.

Hastings said the increases prove conclusively the need for drivers' examinations, and called on the traffic committee of council to support the proposal which already has the approval of enforcement authorities, the administration, and the traffic commission and police committee.

Florida Court Order Useless in Georgia

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 24.—An injunction order from a judge of the circuit court in an adjoining Florida county directed against a Valdosta bank proved to be a legal dud when it was served today.

The injunction grew out of a divorce case in the Florida court, where the estranged wife was suing for alimony and sought to prevent the defendant from withdrawing his money from the local bank.

When the paper was served the Florida court learned that a state court injunction has no legal standing whatever in Georgia. The husband withdrew the money and went his way.

JURY URGES REMOVAL OF EDUCATION BOARD

EASTMAN, Ga., May 24.—The grand jury recommended to the superior court of Dodge county today in their general presentments the removal of the five members of the Dodge county board of education, charging that they were guilty of inefficiency, incapacity, general neglect of duty and malfeasance and corruption in office.

They asked that a ruling be served on the board requiring them to show cause why they should not be removed from office. Judge Eschel Graham set June 17 for the hearing.

The specific charge is that the board paid out money illegally for various purposes. There has been friction between the county school superintendent, M. W. Hinton, and

G. O. P. WILL SEEK SALES TAX VOTE

Proposal Expected To Be Forced Into Congress-sional Fore Friday.

By CECIL B. DICKSON.
WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—Republican leaders tonight decided to force the manufacturers' sales tax to a vote in the house Friday on the administration's public works-industrial control bill.

At conferences with Representative Snell, of New York, the republican leader, the steering committee selected Representative Bacharach, republican, New Jersey, to make a motion to send the measure back to the ways and means committee with instructions that a sales levy be inserted to finance the $3,000,000,000 bond issue.

This is the only way under the rule by which the measure will be considered that a vote may be had on the sales tax, previously rejected by the ways and means committee.

Meanwhile, it was said that before President Roosevelt asked for the legislation, he had planned to suggest the levy of a small sales tax to raise $220,000,000 to cover interest and amortization requirements of the bond issue.

Upon the advice of Representative Byrns, of Tennessee, the democratic leader, and Chairman Doughton, of the ways and means committee, opponents of the sales tax, who said it could not pass the house, the president left it to the ways and means committee to decide the form of taxation. He stipulated, however, that if a revenue program was not decided upon by the committee soon, he would suggest one of his own.

The committee on Monday, however, decided to increase income and gasoline taxes and make domestic corporate dividends subject to the new high income levies.

Bacharach said that opposition to the sales levy was not as great in the house as it was a year ago, when it was defeated by a coalition of insurgent democrats and republican liberals.

The house will meet at 11 o'clock tomorrow to begin debate on the measure, and Byrns plans to force a vote Friday.

CONVICT FUGITIVE WOUNDS 2, IS SLAIN

PARCHMAN, Miss., May 24.—(AP)—An escaped convict from Parchman farm wounded two white men who were aiding in an attempt to capture him this afternoon before being shot to death by a negro guard.

Ernest Puckett, 22, the convict, was slain by John Hare, negro guard, after he had shot and wounded Vernon Day, 30, and his brother, Billy Day, 25.

FULTON OFFICERS RAID 11 BEER DISPENSARIES

Brew at a Premium After Sheriff's Men Visit Several Places.

Jacob halted the sale of beer as soon as it was learned that cases were to be made.

The "raids," carried out by Deputies W. R. Joiner, S. G. Davis and A. J. Grant were made at the following places:

Piedmont Hotel Grotto.
Fan Tan Restaurant, 24 1-2 Cain street.
Louis Restaurant, 95 Luckie street.
Robert Fulton hotel.
R. H. Crump, 12 Houston street.
Pascou Alley, 12 Peachtree street.
Verner's, Inc., 37 Marietta street.
Wisteria Gardens, 172 1-2 Peachtree.

Fig. 'n' Whistle Sandwich Shop, 82 Broad street.
Southern Grocery stores (Rogers, Inc.) at 12 and 29 Broad street.
A Roger's truck driver.

Lowry Disclaims Knowledge.

While the "raids" were being conducted by his deputies, Sheriff Lowry sat in his office denying that he had ordered his men to take any action.

It was learned, however, that Deputy Sheriff Jim Bazemore was the officer who obtained the list of licensed dealers and it was presumed that the squad moving over the city was operating at his direction.

Sheriff Lowry was noncommittal on the policy of his office regarding other laws which have long been open to violation. Whether or not he would seek to enforce the blue laws and the law prohibiting the sale of beer he could not be learned. Under the new dry law the sale of beer is as great a violation as the sale of 3.2 per cent beer or hard liquor.

The state law concerning Sunday provides that no person may follow his ordinary calling on Sunday except in cases of necessity and charity.

City Police Take No Part.

City police will have nothing to do with stopping the sale of beer in Atlanta, Chief T. O. Sturdivant said Wednesday, adding that he thought "there was too much foolishness in the whole business."

Under a ruling by City Attorney James L. Mayson, the new council ordinance legalizing the sale of 3.2 per cent beer requires all dealers who will a malt beverage to pay the new license fee set by the ordinance.

Chief Sturdivant was asked if he would force drugstores, lunchstands and other places which sell near beer to purchase a license. He said:

"I have no power in the matter now nor in the future attempt to enforce any city license law. Such functions are under the city clerk and license inspectors."

"The police department," he said, "has too much important business to attend to be fooling around arresting people who sell beer—a beverage which the federal government has said is non-intoxicating."

"Good beer is good for people and if permitted to be sold would work wonders in improving the moral conditions of our citizens. It would cut down liquor drinking by both children and adults, lessen crime, take hundreds of drunken drivers off the streets and highways, and react to the benefit of all people."

Discussing the eighteenth amendment Chief Sturdivant said, "the sooner we repeal the ridiculous law the better off we'll be. We just need any law that will corrupt and undermine the physical and well-being of folks."

"So far as I'm concerned, every business house in Atlanta can sell 3.2 beer if they choose—my department will spend its time searching out corn whiskey sellers."

Whether Jim Fulk and Art Young, the first two arrested for selling beer, will be tried in the superior court or the criminal court of Atlanta could not be learned Wednesday.

The cases have been set for June 1 in the criminal court of Atlanta but efforts are still being made to have them transferred to the superior court.

A. Baumgartner, attorney for the two men, announced that he would demand trial by jury in the superior court, but at the office of Solicitor-General Boykin attention was called to an order of the superior court judges, issued in 1931, assigning all misdemeanor cases to the criminal court of Atlanta. Solicitor John S. McClelland, of the criminal court, is out of the city for the week and his views on the situation could not be obtained.

The attorney announced that he would subpoena Mayor Key, Mrs. William T. Healey, anti-prohibition leader; Dr. C. R. Clark, state chemist, and others to be witnesses at the trial.

Solicitor-General John A. Boykin Wednesday had received no reply from United States District Attorney Clint W. Hager regarding the legality of transportation of beer from Tennessee to Florida, both of which have legalized beer by state statute.

Solicitor-General Boykin Wednesday continued to withhold comment of the resolution passed Monday by the Atlanta Christian Council demanding the arrest and prosecution of Mayor James L. Key and the members of council who voted to license the sale of beer despite the state law.

The collector general has a copy of the resolution on file at his office but as yet has taken no action on it.

William E. Dunn Jr., Atlanta manufacturers' agent, Wednesday sent the following letter to Sheriff Lowry demanding that he arrest all members of the Christian council who lobby for the state capitol during the recent session of the legislature:

"Please investigate immediately, and if you find that this Atlanta Christian council or any member of this so-called 'Christian' council has ever appeared in the halls of the state capitol or any other legislative building to lobby for or against any law, kindly arrest and look up and hold until I notify you further, each and every member of said council who has ever done this. This is open violation of law you know—please look into this and look up each and every offender of the law against lobbying, instantly, and let me know when you have done so."

"A dollar to a doubloon that the newspapers do not give as much publicity to this demand on you as they did to the demand of the so-called Atlanta Christian council which by no means represents the whole or any material part of the Christian people of Atlanta."

"Very truly yours,
"WM. E. DUNN JR."

DIRECTED VERDICT ACQUITS MOONEY ON OLD CHARGE

Interests of the state that no evidence be presented by the prosecution. Mooney was on his feet instantly.

"It is the desire of the jury," to "exercise my constitutional right and defend myself with the aid of counsel."

Able Represented.

"That will be recorded," said the judge. "But let me say that in 90 cases out of 100 a man makes a fool of himself by attempting to represent himself in court. On one side of you you have one of the ablest lawyers in the United States (evidently referring to Walsh); on the other you have an attorney (Gallagher) who is thoroughly acquainted with all the facts. The court will adopt the rule that you are defending yourself through counsel."

"Undaunted by the responsibility he had taken, Brady long ago advocated a pardon for Mooney and repudiated the evidence used by the state in the original case."

Mooney then read the letter written by Brady to Governor Friend W. Richardson, in 1926, advocating a pardon. He introduced this as an argument to take the case out of his hands, since the district attorney had expressed belief in his innocence, that official should aid in the current effort to free him. Judge Ward denied the motion.

Calls for Witness.

The prisoner then asked that John McDonald, originally a state's witness, be brought here from Baltimore. That likewise was denied, and Judge Ward began to set forth his reasons for cutting short the trial.

Then Mooney took another tack. He read from a statement previously made by Judge Ward in which a full trial for Mooney was advocated.

Judge Ward turned to the jury and warned it that the matter were not to be considered as evidence.

"This court," said the jurist, "believes it advisable to have a trial for this defendant upon the facts in the case—trial in which the prosecution is represented by someone who conscientiously believes in the defendant's guilt. The court granted you the right to use any evidence, and if it became apparent that the district attorney, for good and sufficient reasons, decided to present no evidence, the case would be dismissed. Your counsel in open court, so you would have time to deliberate the matter."

Questioned by Counsel.

"I continued your case one month, because a trial without the presentation of a case by someone who believes in your guilt would be no contest at all. It appears you either were ill-advised or used some trickery. I also told your counsel in chambers."

Gallagher interrupted, saying he did not recall having been advised in chambers.

"If you interrupt further," said Judge Ward to Gallagher, "I am going to do just what you seem to be wanting the court to do."

The jurist then recalled the multiplicity of demands for a new hearing for Mooney and "scathing denunciations of the tactics of the defense."

He cited the previous action of the courts, particularly that of the justices of the state supreme court.

"If the jurors took the same view as the justice of the supreme court," Judge Ward said, "this defendant would be convicted. The court's attempt to have this case settled once and for all has failed, because the attorney-general (U. S. Webb) has refused to substitute someone for the district attorney. In saying this, I have no criticism for the attorney-general, who doubtless had good reasons for his course."

Just "Shadow Boxing."

"But without the presentation of prosecution evidence the defense in presenting a case would be doing merely as Mr. Murphy previously has said—shadow boxing."

Still Mooney was not through.

"We hope," he said, "that the prosecution will have the decency to withdraw the motion for a directed acquittal."

"We have been decent," retorted Murphy.

Judge Ward turned to the jury.

"There is no evidence here," he said, "that a murder was committed. Hence there is but one course for the court, in view of the people's motion. I therefore advise you to return a verdict of acquittal."

Judge Ward informed the jurors they need not necessarily follow his recommendations, but he ordered such a verdict prepared. The jury retired and came back in less than two minutes with the signed verdict freeing Mooney on the charge of murdering Arthur Nelson, one of the ten persons killed by the Preparedness Day bomb.

April over March, slightly less than the usual seasonal gain.

Despite heavy increases in March, sales of automobiles by dealers and distributors advanced. New cars sold at wholesale numbered 34.8 per cent more than in March, although 22.9 per cent smaller than in April 1932; and retail sales were 25.5 per cent above March and 3.6 per cent above the previous April.

Furniture shipments expanded 15 per cent above March while retail orders were 29 per cent greater, contrary to usual trend. Operations averaged 80 per cent of capacity.

An improvement in employment conditions was noted by the report in a 6 per cent increase in industrial pay rolls, offsetting a loss of 5 per cent for March.

APRIL FURNITURE ORDERS ECLIPSE TOTAL FOR MARCH

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 24.—(AP)—For the first time in many years, new business booked by the furniture industry in April exceeded that booked in March, it was reported today by Seidman & Seidman, accountants, to the industry.

The firm's bulletin stated that furniture manufacturers entered April with new orders on their books in April than in any month since October, 1932, and that "not since the market month of June, 1932, has any single month equaled or even approached the volume of business recorded in the corresponding month a year previous."

New orders in April, it was stated, were within 4 per cent of April, 1932, and brought the total new business for the first four months of 1933 up to 69 per cent of that secured in the similar period of 1932.

Don't delay, start today, and maybe next week you will be writing letters like these, received today from some of last week's prize winners:

"The Constitution and to those responsible for the Jinky Contest.

Gentlemen:

First I wish to offer my sincere thanks for the most welcome and much-needed prize. The pleasure I had in making the Jinky that won first prize together with the thrill of competition, made the work most simple and delightful, but this was all incomparable with the sight of my name in "The Constitution" as first prize winner.

I want all Jinky makers to be on their toes, for I am determined to set a pace during the coming weeks. Again let me thank you most heartily.

Respectfully,

Dear Jinky Editor:

A Jinkys a Jinky, and
A dollar's a dollar.
When I saw that I won,
I sure did holler.

I entered for pastime and pleasure.
Didn't expect to win.
But my Jinkys are my treasure,
So I will enter again.

Here's to The Constitution,

Dear Jinky Editor:

Of all the contests I have entered into and have read about, the Jinky Contest is the most fascinating.

When I have finished my day's work, tired and worn out, it is very restful and amusing, to cut some Jinkys.

Then on Sunday morning what a thrill when I found my name as winning one of the special prizes, and that being a most beautiful table lamp from the Storch Furniture Co. Mr. Hicks, vice president of this company, is always so cooperative with every cause that will be beneficial to our city.

I commend the Jinky promoters and praise the leading newspaper, "The Atlanta Constitution."

QUICK TAX ACTION SEEN BY DOUGHTON

white-collar man and the skilled laborer.

That action was taken to assure the $220,000,000 annual income which is needed to finance President Roosevelt's $3,000,000,000 public works program in the national recovery bill.

A quick glance at their morning newspapers showed committee members the curious paradox of the situation. Here Morgan, one of the world's richest men, was admitting he was paying not one penny of income tax. On the other hand, an unmarried salaried clerk—earning, say, $2,000 a year—was turning over $40 of it to the federal government.

Doughton said no attempt would be made to revise the income tax laws to assure more revenue from the high brackets until the recovery bill had been started on its way through congress. In addition to raising the was slightly more than the usual seasonal increase.

During April, particularly the latter part of the month, there were substantial increases in the wholesale prices of grains, flour, sugar, textile raw materials and finished products, hides, pig iron, non-ferrous metals and rubber.

The prices of most of these commodities continued to advance rapidly in the first two weeks of May and showed little change thereafter.

Live change in stock prices, continued, increased considerably in the first three weeks of May while silver prices, after advancing in April, showed a decline and petroleum prices also were reduced.

During the four weeks following the imposition of the embargo of gold, the review said the exchange value of the dollar declined to 83 per cent of its gold parity on May 5 but subsequently rose to 87 per cent. The noon buying rate for the French franc rose from 3.98 cents on April 18 to 4.50 cents on May 20 and the rate on the English pound rose from $3.49 to $3.87.

SLAUGHTERHOUSE OUTPUT REGISTERS APRIL GAINS

CHICAGO, May 24.—(AP)—Production at American slaughterhouses during April showed gains contrary to the seasonal trend, moving 2 per cent ahead of last year and 5 per cent ahead of a gain of 1.2 per cent over March and were within 8 per cent of last April. The gains in sales were also opposed to the usual trend for April.

Pay rolls at slaughter houses showed little change in number of employees and gained 4 1-2 per cent in wages paid.

Creamery butter production in the seventh district expanded only 1 per cent in April over March, 8 1-2 per cent less than a year ago. It was explained, to the late spring and to the milk market strike. Sales tonnage declined 9 1-2 per cent from March.

Manufacture of American cheese in Wisconsin increased 12 per cent in April.

rates on the "little fellow," the bill extends for one year the "nuisance taxes," raises the gasoline levy to 1 3-4 cents a gallon, and taxes corporate dividends.

The ways and means committee will meet first for a "consultation," Doughton said. If a majority desires to investigate the income tax machinery, hearings will be held in a search for legislation that will readjust the tax burden.

President Roosevelt gave direct assurance today that the increased income taxes and other emergency levies will be repealed when and if the 15th amendment is abolished by ratification of the required 36 states. Revenue from the sale of liquor, the president believes, will make up the necessary $220,000,000 for interest and sinking fund charges on the public works bonds.

GRADY BOARD WINS
FIGHT OVER AUDITFinance Body Tables
Chambers' Charges, Asks
That 'Harrassing' Cease

Grady hospital board of trustees, headed by Samuel C. Dobbs, Wednesday won a double victory when the finance committee of council voted to table charges by W. Evans Chambers, city survey expert, and also decided to ask council to order that the board shall not be "harrassed further."

Action of the committee followed a renewal of the complaints by Chambers that the board refused to submit to him for audit accounts of funds contributed to the board by Fulton county commissioners; that under an opinion of City Attorney James J. Mayson the board had no right to divert any of the contribution to salaries of employees; that the board had no right to allow Superintendent John B. Franklin and his family to live at the hospital.

In addition Chambers complained that the board lost more than $1,000 in cashing county warrants before the money was actually expended. Dobbs played the Chambers charges, branding them "malicious falsehoods." He contended the board and he stood indicted by Chambers and the newspapers, to which Chambers ran with them (the charges).

The committee will consider vacations for municipal employees at a meeting slated for 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, but Councilman J. Raymond Curtis, chairman of the board of firemasters, who offered a resolution to set up $14,000 for firemen's vacations, said because of the attitude of the committee favoring his measure, he would start firemen's vacations at once.

Sale of $888,000 worth of Atlanta bonds to refund those due this year was given the approval of Storey, Thorndike, Palmer & Dodge, Boston bond attorneys.

MEMORIAL MODEL
MAY BE DISPLAYED
AT CHICAGO FAIR

Probability that a scale model of new figures for the Stone Mountain Confederate memorial will be displayed at the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago came to light Wednesday.

Mayor James L. Key, chairman of the Stone Mountain commission, said Gutzon Borglum, original sculptor of the memorial, has been asked to design the model and advise on Rushmore, S. D., quoted Borglum as saying he was preparing it.

Meanwhile, there is talk of placing Stone Mountain half-dollar coins on sale at the exposition. The mayor stated the commission sanctioned the movement and Borglum was reported as declaring unequivocally that the coins would be offered.

JEWS OF GEORGIA
TO GATHER SUNDAY
IN ANNUAL SESSION

The first of a series of annual gatherings of Jewish citizens from all over the state sponsored by the B'nai B'rith will be held at the Ansley hotel here Sunday.

Officials of Gate City Lodge No. 144 of the B'nai B'rith estimate an attendance of 500 from outside Atlanta and say the city's representation will be well above the number.

Non-members of the organization have been invited to participate in the one-day state Jewish conference. The principal address will be delivered by Richard E. Gustaf, of Cincinnati, membership and special activities director of B'nai B'rith. In the morning session he will devote himself to the problems of Jews in Georgia. In the afternoon he will cover the European Jewish situation. Other speakers will include Colonel M. G. Michael, of Atlanta; Rabbi I. E. Marcuson, of Macon; Rabbi F. L. Rosenthal, of Columbus; Isaac May, Rome, Ga., businessman; Louis J. Levitas, Georgia congressman; Rabbi David Marx, Rabbi Harry H. Epstein, Herman Heyman, and V. H. Kreighbaum, all of Atlanta; Dr. Leon Roney, of Charleston, S. C., president of district grand lodge No. 5, and Harry A. Alexander, of Atlanta, fifth district representative of the constitution grand lodge. A woman's auxiliary of the B'nai B'rith and a state B'nai B'rith council will be organized during the afternoon session.

THREE ART STUDENTS TO GRADUATE FRIDAY

Three of the 31 students at the High Museum of Art will graduate exercises to be held at the museum at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, when the annual exhibition of work by students will be on view, according to announcement Wednesday. Dr. David Marx will be the speaker and J. J. Haverly, president of the Atlanta Art Association, will deliver the diplomas. Graduating students are Mrs. J. V. Jones, Miss Frances Wilson and Miss Helen Kaplan. The work this year was declared to be of a high order by L. P. Fildes, director of the museum, and the annual exhibit will show many pieces of work. Mr. Skidmore also said the annual meeting of the Atlanta Art Association will be held next Wednesday afternoon at the museum.

SUBJECT OF ADDRESS

"From the Ballroom to the Pulpit" will be the subject of an address by Rev. Charlie Dunaway tonight at the Bethel Methodist church, Adamsville. The address is not a regular revival sermon, "but rather is a history of my life from the time that I came to Atlanta 40 years ago to teach ballroom dancing in old Harmony Hall, on Whitehall street, up until the present. Friday night's revival will be dedicated to the young people, and will be called 'High School Night' with appropriate music for the younger people, led by James Marston, popular song leader, according to Rev. J. J. Blanks, the pastor."

MODERN METHODS
LIGHTEN HOUSEWORK

Modern methods have robbed housekeeping of its drudgery, Miss Demetria Taylor, home expert of the Good Housekeeping Institute, told Atlanta women in Rich's tea room Wednesday. She will be heard again on Thursday and Friday.

U. S. ARMS POLICY
OUTLINED BY DAVISConference of Nations in Case of Treaty Violation
One of Major Points.

GENEVA, May 24.—(AP)—The anti-war machinery which the United States is helping to construct took definite form in the disarmament conference today when Norman H. Davis announced the Washington government was prepared to confer with other powers when the Briand-Kellogg pact has been violated.

If it is possible to identify the aggressor, Mr. Davis, the American ambassador-at-large, said, the United States government undertakes to refrain from any action likely to defeat the concerted efforts of other nations to deal with the offending state.

The United States, moreover, the ambassador announced, will not give protection to any American citizen who may engage in activities tending to defeat the international peace efforts.

Picnic to Monticello
Planned by First Lady

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today she planned to make a trip to Monticello next Wednesday in much the same manner that she visited the Stratford home of the Lees last week.

Her plan is to take a picnic lunch, and to allow women reporters who are covering her activities to go along if they wish, driving their own cars.

On the Stratford trip she visited several other near-by historic shrines and will probably do the same on the Monticello trip.

Many delegates to the conference commenting informally described the Roosevelt doctrine as vastly more important as a declaration of American policy than the Monroe Doctrine because the new policy applies to the entire world and is deemed here to be a powerful incentive to all nations to reduce armaments and strengthen the means of preventing war.

How far the heavily armed countries will reduce their armaments will depend to a considerable extent upon the fate of the pact of mutual assistance which will be presented to the conference, probably tomorrow.

PENN EXECUTIVES
ARRIVE FOR MEETING

J. Burton Webster, regional superintendent of agencies of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co., and E. Paul Huttering, manager of training of the company, both of Philadelphia, arrived here Wednesday. Today they will open a three-day sales conference with members of the Penn Mutual organization.

On Friday at 12:30 o'clock Mr. Huttering will address the luncheon meeting of the Atlanta Life Underwriters' Association in the main dining room of the Kimball House. He is the author of several books and an authority on insurance taxation.

FIFTEENTH PRIZE—One Six-Month Pass to the Paramount theater cut on a Paramount Jinky.

RULES OF THE CONTEST

1. All Jinkys for these prizes must be entered Wednesday, May 31st, at 137 Peachtree Arcade.

2. Any person (except employees of The Constitution and their families) regardless of age, is eligible to enter the Jinky contest.

3. Any contestants may cut or make as many Jinkys as they wish, but Jinkys may be entered in the contest only with 10 Jinky receipts. (Example). If a person has 100 Jinky receipts, he or she may enter 10 Jinkys in the contest.

4. Contestants will be given 1 Jinky receipt by co-operating firms with each 25c purchase or payment on account. (Example). If a contestant buys $1 worth of merchandise at any of the co-operating stores he or she will receive 4 Jinky receipts. If a contestant pays $2 on account, he or she will receive 8 Jinky receipts.

5. Each Wednesday there will appear a free Jinky receipt in The Constitution. Contestants may use this free Jinky receipt along with 9 paid receipts to enter a Jinky in the contest.

6. A list of the official stores giving Jinkys and Jinky receipts will be published in The Constitution each Monday, Wednesday and Saturday. You may ask for and get Jinkys and Jinky receipts any day in the week, but JINKY MAY BE ENTERED IN THE CONTEST ONLY ON WEDNESDAYS, AT 137 PEACHTREE ARCADE.

7. Prizes will be awarded according to rules announced each Wednesday.

8. This week's contest will close promptly at 6:30 p. m. on Wednesday, May 31st, and winners' names for the week will be published in the following Sunday Constitution.

9. All Jinkys will be judged according to:

a. Oddity. b. Originality. c. Artistic Merit.

SUGGESTIONS: For this contest, small lacy figures are not as desirable as bold, easily recognized designs. Make your Jinkys so the Judges will be attracted at once. Don't compel them to study out the design—in other words, make it odd, make it original, and make it as artistic as you can—BUT ABOVE ALL, MAKE IT. You have just as good a chance as anyone.

Mrs. Nelson made a short talk.

John W. Grant, Atlanta financier, Wednesday suggested that the site of the historic Kimball House be utilized for erection of the proposed new city hall. In a conference with Mayor James L. Key, he offered to lease the tract for about $20,000 a year or to sell it outright for $500,000.

Jon Dean Steward, clerk of federal district court returned to Atlanta Wednesday morning from Rome, where the district court has been in session since May 15. Judge E. Marvin Underwood returned Tuesday night and court will resume operation here on Saturday morning.

Motor travel bureaus are subject to the state motor vehicle law, according to a ruling Wednesday by Judge John D. Humphries in superior court in which he denied A. L. Sparks, operator of a bureau, an injunction seeking to restrain the public service commission from prosecution for alleged failure to observe provisions of the state law.

United States immigration districts 10 and 13, comprising Florida and Georgia, have been combined it was learned Wednesday. Headquarters will be in Jacksonville and J. H. Wallis, formerly stationed in Atlanta, will be placed in charge of the combined district.

Governor Talma and Mayor Key have accepted invitations to speak at Baxley on May 29, when the farmers of Appling county will present 1,000-000 sweet potato plants to be distributed among Atlanta's needy families to be grown into sweet potatoes. The program is being arranged by Manning Yeomans, state entomologist.

Chief Justice Richard S. Russell Sr. and Justice R. C. Bell, of the supreme court of Georgia, addressed the commercial law class of the Atlanta Opportunity School Wednesday. After visiting the various trade departments, they expressed themselves as pleased with the work being done.

John M. Slaton Jr., manager of the Atlanta veterans' administration, announced Wednesday that he had received a radiogram from the administrator of veterans' affairs relative to the enrollment of unemployed veterans in the emergency conservation work. The radiogram said that plans for enrollment had not been completed and that the selection will be based on state and local quotas.

The meeting will start at 8 o'clock in the clubroom, 304 Peck building, and all interested are invited to be present.

Atlanta Federation of Trades held its semi-monthly meeting at the labor temple on Trinity avenue Wednesday night. Only routine business was transacted. A. Steve Nance, president, presided at the meeting.

VISCOUNT SNOWDEN FLAYS M'DONALD FOR 'INCAPACITY'

LONDON, May 24.—(AP)—Viscount Snowden made a scathing attack on Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, his former national government cabinet colleague, in the house of lords today.

"I would suggest that the government should look into the case of the prime minister, not only in his own interests but in the interests of the country," Lord Snowden said, "for it is a positive danger to the country that its affairs should be in the hands of a man who, every time he speaks, exposes his ignorance or incapacity."

The viscount, for years a colleague of Mr. MacDonald in the labor party, declared the prime minister might better have saved time and expense than to have gone to Washington for President Roosevelt's economic discussions.

"There were no results," Lord Snowden said, "except a repetition of the platitudes which we have heard scores of times in connection with the forthcoming conference."

MAGNOLIA, ARKANSAS, VOTES SALE OF BEER

MAGNOLIA, Ark., May 24.—(AP)—The city council here has passed an ordinance licensing the sale of 3.2 per cent beer—the first in Arkansas to take such action.

It fixes the retailers license at $30 a year. Magnolia is 20 miles from the Louisiana state line and proponents of the licensing ordinance said that since Louisiana has legalized beer, it was drawing large revenue from this section.

Introduction of the ordinance by L. A. Longino brought on a heated argument over its legality, opponents contending the state's bone-dry law applied to the 3.2 per cent beer while proponents took the view the new beverage was not intoxicating. Mayor W. O. Collins was one of the four voting for the ordinance against which three votes were cast.

REV. CHARLES FISK, NOTED EDUCATOR, DIES

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., May 24.—(AP)—The Rev. Charles L. Fisk, D. D., 64, widely known Congregational minister and religious educator, died at a hospital here today after a brief illness.

Funeral services will be held at Stuart tomorrow. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Marian Ballou Fisk, chautauqua entertainer; daughter, Mrs. Walter C. Giersbach, Chicago, and a son, the Rev. Chester P. Fisk, Chicago.

ADMIRAL WEMYSS, CANNES, France, May 24.—(AP)—Admiral of the Fleet Roslyn Erskine Wemyss, the first Baron of Wemyss, who signed the armistice for England, died today at his villa, where he had lived since the war. He was 69 years old.

LAWTON IS SECRETARY TO SENATOR SMITH

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—Charles A. Lawton, of Florence, S. C., today was appointed by Senator Ellison D. Smith as his secretary, to succeed Charles Jackson, who now is deputy commissioner of fisheries.

About 16,000 deaths during childbirth in the United States each year, and physicians have said that at least half these deaths are preventable.

TEXTILE STRIKE ENDS IN GREENVILLE, S. C.

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 24.—(AP)—Settlement of a strike of 1,000 operatives of the F. W. Poe Manufacturing Company, begun yesterday, was announced tonight by N. C. Poe Jr., president of the company.

Part of the machinery of the textile mill was placed in operation tonight and the full scheduled will be resumed tomorrow morning, Poe said.

Morgan Keeps Check Through Own Writer

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—J. P. Morgan & Company hired its own short-hand experts to transcribe the testimony of J. P. Morgan before the senate banking committee.

Company officials explained it wasn't because they didn't have faith in the committee's own stenographers—who are sworn by the chairman before they start work—but because they wanted a complete transcript "quickly."

F. D. R. DISCUSSES CRISIS IN FAR EAST

President Receives Stimson After Conference With Japanese Envoys.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt plunged deeply today into the troubled far eastern situation, but took time also to name Representative Sam D. McReynolds, of Tennessee, to the London conference delegation and receive from Senator Hiram W. Johnson, a California, a declaration to serve on that body.

After opening a series of White House conversations with a group of distinguished Japanese officials, the president conferred at his office with Henry L. Stimson, the Hoover secretary of state, whose diplomacy was featured by proclamation of a doctrine of non-recognition of territory gained by force.

The doctrine was applied specifically in connection with the Japanese advance into Manchuria and its establishment there of a new state under the name of Manchukuo. The Japanese are pressing for recognition of this state by the American government and the rest of the world.

The United States, on the other hand, is using its influence in friendly fashion to bring peace to the far east and swing Japan into line on the British arms reduction proposal at Geneva.

Stimson Is Silent

After his talk with the president, Stimson declined to comment except to say his visit did not relate to the world economic conference.

The Japanese conversations began in an informal 40-minute talk after a luncheon for the Japanese at the White House.

The president sat down with Viscount Kikijiro Ishii and Eigo Fukui, heads of the Japanese delegation, and Ambassador Katsui Debuchi. They talked freely, but there was not time for much progress on the questions viewed as most vital.

Purely economic subjects, relating to exchange stabilization and reduction of trade barriers, will be taken up tomorrow when the Japanese officials meet Secretary Hull and his aides at the state department.

Johnson's declaration to serve on the American delegation to the London parley did not come altogether as a surprise. As he left the White House after making his views known to the president, the Californian said he appreciated the honor but that it was "an absolute impossibility" for him to go.

Reports have been current that Mr. Roosevelt was finding some difficulty in filling out his delegation because of the decision to limit the daily allowances of representatives to $6, far less than it would cost them to live in London.

Other Developments

During the day there was a swirl of international activities in the capital. Official clarification was given on several important matters.

At the state department, officials said the United States would not sign the "security" section of the British plan under discussion at the Geneva conference, but instead would make its position clear in a unilateral declaration.

This will follow the lines of the historic statement on behalf of the United States Monday at Geneva of willingness to consult other nations if peace is threatened and, if this country agrees as to the aggressor, to refrain from any action which would circumvent collective effort against the offender.

On war debts, the administration is playing a waiting game. The president said at his press conference today that nothing is being done on the subject. Meanwhile, $144,000,000 in payments fall due June 15, three days after the London conference opens.

25 Persons Injured In Subway Accident

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—A rear-end collision of two trains at the Brooklyn Museum station today injured 25 persons, four of them seriously.

Michael Reynolds, motorman of the rear train, calmly directed a fire emergency squad, working for two hours with acetylene torches to free him from the twisted steel wreckage. Still conscious when released, Reynolds was found to have a crushed leg and minor injuries.

The accident happened shortly after the morning rush hours.

Salesman Pleads Guilty In Boettcher Kidnaping

DENVER, Col., May 24.—(AP)—A plea of guilty to a charge of kidnaping Charles Boettcher, IL, wealthy young Denver broker, and holding him for $60,000 ransom was entered in federal court today by Carl W. Pearce, 35, former Greely, Col., insurance salesman.

Federal District Judge J. F. Symms said he would sentence Pearce Saturday morning.

Pearce was the second of four persons arrested in connection with the abduction of the young broker February 17 from his home garage. He was held nearly 17 days in an isolated ranch house near Chamberlain, S. D. Arthur Youngberg, strapping young Winnipeg, Canada, railroader, pleaded guilty to a similar charge several weeks ago. Both face possible life terms, the maximum sentence for kidnaping under federal statutes.

ALABAMA GUARDSMEN STILL ON STRIKE DUTY

ANNISTON, Ala., May 24.—(AP)—Quiet prevailed in two textile strike districts here tonight as national guardsmen patrolled one mill village to preserve order and prevent destruction of property.

A third walkout, ordered by workers last night, was averted today with an increase of more than 10 per cent in the wages of the 300-odd employees of the Anniston Cordage Company.

The increase in pay was announced by Leslie Sutton, resident manager of the plant, this morning and the threatened walkout was called off.

Meanwhile, efforts to reconcile differences between striking employees of the American Net & Twine Co., and the Ullies Knitting Mills, made little if any progress.

UNITARIAN ALLIANCE ELECTS MRS. REES

BOSTON, May 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Thomas G. Rees, of Massachusetts, was today elected president of the General Alliance of Unitarians and other liberal Christian women. The alliance is holding its annual convention here, in connection with other Unitarian societies. Mrs. U. L. McCall, Georgia, and Mrs. John F. Oechner, Louisiana, were elected vice presidents.

Indian Explains Shoe Making

Chief William Red Fox, Indian scoutmaster, is seen showing Paul Barcroft, manager of the Nettleton shoe department of Zachry's, the hand-made features of the Algonquin shoe in connection with national Algonquin week. For over six weeks Mr. Barcroft's department has shown the highest percentage of Algonquin sales, compared with those of other brands, in something like 45 Nettleton shops.

FLORIDA SENATE VOTES FOR BOND REFUNDING

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 24.—(AP)—The senate late today by a vote of 28 to 9 passed the administration-sponsored bill for refunding bonded indebtedness of cities, counties and districts.

The vote came after two and a half days of heated debate, during which Senators Whitaker, of Tampa, and Beacham, of West Palm Beach, strove to defeat the measure by offering amendment after amendment.

Atlanta Jews To Launch Campaign To Aid People Harassed by Hitler

Beginning next week, Atlanta Jews will launch a campaign to obtain funds for the early relief of Jews in Germany who have been subjected to persecution under the reign of Chancellor Hitler. The drive, leaders here pointed out, is of a strictly benevolent nature and is without political significance.

Victor H. Kriegshaber, well-known Atlanta businessman, is vice chairman and treasurer of the Atlanta campaign. Other officers will be announced after the meetings next week. The campaign has a three-fold purpose: it was pointed out: First, to take care of the destitute Jews who cannot leave Germany; second, to assist those who haven't financial means to leave the country when permitted to do so, and third, to assist German Jews in establishing schools so that their children may be educated.

The principal meeting of the campaign will be at the Peachtree street temple on Wednesday, May 31, at 10:30 a. m., when Dr. David Marx will make the appeal in connection with the confirmation services. Prior to that the appeal will be presented at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night at the Ohr V'Sholom synagogue, composed of Spanish and Portuguese Jews.

Rabbi Tobias Gefen will present the appeal to the congregation of Shearith Israel and Rabbi Harry Epstein to congregation of the Temple Ahavath Achim in connection with memorial exercises on Thursday, June 1.

40% of Our Patrons

Eat for 25¢ or less

THESE are actual figures, taken from a summary of over 60,000 S & W meals. Think of it—25c or less! You can live on a limited budget, at the S & W Cafeteria.

Figures tell the story—the story of economy. They show that 83c is the average amount spent per day by our women patrons, for three meals; and $1.00 the average for men. Even in your own home you will find it difficult to eat for less, when you consider the cost of small-quantity purchases, heat for cooking, and other items incidental to the preparation of food.

Think also of the economic advantages of our volume purchases. Here again, the saving is passed on to our patrons. It isn't a big profit on each meal that we are looking for... it's a little profit on many meals.

We invite you to join the ranks of our millions of satisfied patrons. Even if the size of your purse is limited, remember that 40% of our patrons spend but 25c or less.

S & W, like its patrons, demands only the best the world provides, having a fine appreciation of its responsibility in holding a priceless reputation.

WAKING UP!

Announcement by the Union Pacific railroad that it has placed an order for the construction of a new type, high-speed passenger train marks the recognition by that great system of the inevitable and radical changes in rail transportation which must be effected if the railroads of the United States are to survive the competition they now face.

To meet the modern-day demand for speed and comfortable transportation, the new train will be constructed of aluminum alloys and its motor engine, because of its light weight, will be able to draw it at a maximum speed of 110 miles per hour.

The three-car train, consisting of an engine, mail and baggage car, a 60-passenger coach and a 56-passenger coach and buffet, will have a total weight of 160,000 pounds, about 20,000 pounds less than that of the average passenger coach now in use.

The new train will contain no Pullman sleepers, but that company is now building lightweight sleepers for night travel.

The new-style Pullmans will weigh only 96,000 pounds—no more than half the weight of the steel Pullmans now in use.

The aluminum, high-speed trains will not only enable the railroads to offer transportation more in keeping with modern travel requirements, but will effect sweeping savings in operation expenses and in wear and tear on tracks.

They undoubtedly offer the one certain way in which the railroads can successfully meet the competition of air and highway, and the amazing feature of the situation is the slowness of the railway executives of America to realize that the development of this type of rail transportation is an inevitable step to the future prosperity of their industry.

Trains of the type ordered by the Union Pacific have been in successful operation in Germany for months. They operate on schedules calling for a regular speed of 96 miles an hour.

The necessity for revolutionary changes in rail transport methods and equipment was emphasized in the recent report of the National Transportation Committee. Citing the need for lighter equipment and increased speed to offset highway competition, the committee's report said:

It cannot be fairly said that railroad advance in applied science is abreast of that in other industrial fields. For example, the improvements in Germany with a streamlined Diesel and electric trains of very light tonnage, maintaining schedules of 96 miles per hour to offset motor transport, has no counterpart here. The committee has not found it practicable to make exhaustive studies on this subject, but offers the suggestion that the interstate commerce commission authorize, and the railroads set up, one or more central research and engineering organizations to which all railroads in certain groups shall contribute their products to be available to all contributors.

The railroads have been the last to wake up to the widespread realization that the days of old-time railroading are past forever and that if the rail industry does not, like every other major industry, keep step with modern developments, it is doomed to extinction.

And yet the railroads have sat idly by and permitted themselves to be slowly strangled by new and virile competition on the highways, and in the air.

They are now waking up!

It has been long evident that this new competition could not be successfully combatted by the worn-out and antiquated rail transportation of the past. Greater speed and lower rates must be offered in competition with other forms of transportation that have come to stay.

These factors are to be found in the new, light and high-speed motor trains, and in them largely lies the hope of the revival of the railroads.

The Union Pacific expects to have its new train in operation within six months. It is probable that before that time other great systems will have taken similar steps and that when the certain popularity of these new trains with the traveling public has been demonstrated there will take place a far-reaching change in rail transportation in the United States.

The very life of the railroads of the country depends on it.

A ball player who used his spikes was suspended by the league president. In the rough old days the home town fans preferred a rope.

UNWISE TAXATION.

Congress will make a mistake if it authorizes, for the purpose of providing revenue to finance the $3,300,000,000 public works program, the proposed increase in the normal rates of income taxes and places new taxation on dividends received by holders of corporate stocks.

Such an increase in taxation would come as a staggering blow to business at a time when it is struggling to get back on its feet.

In addition to the crippling effect on business of the increased income tax rates, the proposed dividend tax would be tantamount to double taxation. Investors in business stocks would be called on to pay a tax on earnings on which a corporation tax had already been paid.

The increased income tax would mean simply a heavier burden on the wage earners and those of moderate means, and those who have to not money enough to engage high-priced tax experts and attorneys to show them how easy the tax can be evaded.

In their testimony before the senate banking committee, Mitchell and Morgan, the heads of the greatest financial institutions in America, dealing annually not in millions, but in billions, of dollars, have revealed how it is possible for the owners of great wealth to evade the payment of any income tax whatsoever by resort to security and corporate juggling, "upon the advice of attorney."

By adroit juggling—and perhaps within the law—big financiers are able to take advantage of deflated values to avoid income tax payments, but the little fellows, those who have their money in small business concerns or in real estate, cannot get away with it.

The Morgan bank admits having $230,000,000 assets in federal and other bonds exempt from taxation. Some other avenue of taxation should be used to reach those who seek this bomb proof against taxation.

Certainly, now that the Morgans and the Mitchells have shown how easy it is to evade income tax payment, it is no time to increase the rate the average man has to pay.

Not only will it increase a relatively unjust and unfair burden, but it will, in all probability, defeat its own purpose because it has been conclusively demonstrated that higher income tax rates decrease, rather than increase, the revenue received from this source.

Congress should stop, look and listen before it takes the proposed tax step.

It may be a coincidence, but you'll notice that savage races have neither taxes nor swear words.

About the only difference between a conservative and a radical is in the kind of dictator they want.

The easy way to win public confidence is to place responsibility on the right people and stripes on the right people.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASEN.

War in Asia.

Before these lines appear in print the bomb will most likely have burst in the far east and Japan and Russia will be at grips for the second time and the world will be in a state of chaos. It is not a matter of if, but of when. It is a matter of how long it will take before peace is restored. It is a matter of how long it will take before the world is again a peaceful place.

Now this will be a serious blow to Russia for it eliminates her from the Pacific seaboard. And it will be a hard blow to the American position in the Pacific. Every naval strategist knows that Vladivostok is the key to the Pacific. It is the key to the Philippines. Vladivostok is the key to the Japanese empire. It is the key to the Pacific. It is the key to the world.

A well-known diplomat at Geneva told me that if Japan did not attack Russia in the near future, this would be solely due to a fear on her part of American intervention. Japan knows full well, he said, that America came within an ace of declaring war 18 months ago and that the American fleet still lies steam-up in the Pacific. The only reason Japan has not attacked Russia is that she is afraid of American intervention.

The Apple Would Have Meant Little If Isaac Newton Had Been Posting Ledgers

By Robert Quillen

Reducing the number of working hours to 30 a week should in time give America a universal culture such as the world has never seen. What will the people do with their new leisure?

We know that middle-aged people do when they have abundant leisure and little money to spend. We can observe them at popular resorts. They play bridge or pitch horseshoes or sit on benches and gaze for hours at nothing.

And we know that young people do when they have no duties and too much money. They find reckless play or cultivate expensive vices to escape boredom.

But what will the idle do if they are young and eager to be doing something and have little money to spend? What will they do if they have no duties and too much money?

You have read that the beginning of all culture is leisure. That is true, but there is little truth in the usual definition of culture. There is no culture where people must struggle all their days to earn bread. There must be an accumulated surplus or an easy existence to provide leisure.

But the culture born of leisure doesn't consist in knowing the names of artists, nor in the ability to discuss their works. One might know yet in a true sense possess no culture at all.

Knowing the man who plays the blue fiddle in the orchestra doesn't make one a musician. And ability to quote batting averages doesn't make one a ball player.

Culture began before the dawn of history when a hairy cave man, kept indoors by inclement weather, improved his leisure by chalking pictures of a bison on the cave wall.

When we speak of the culture of the Aztecs, we are not speaking of those who knew about the beginning of the world, but of those who achieved it—the makers of pottery and jewelry and those who devised a calendar and built archless temples.

The cultured are those who can dream beautiful and useful things, and then make them. And their culture begins with the leisure to think. Our civilization was built by dreamers. Every discovery was made by one who had time to think.

Our 15th-century trained youth, ambition, security and leisure are combined, this civilization should cover more ground in 10 years than a work-weary generation covers in 50.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 24.—One of the most interesting art collections in this country is being started by a new movie fashion. Every time a picture is made, a picture is made. Established in Hollywood as the king of horror films—although he has played numerous other roles—Lionel Atwill makes a picture a day. He has been a picture a day for some time held sacred to Boris Karloff. It has been a vasty different field of endeavor from anything he has done in his brilliant career in the theater, but whenever his friends have mentioned that fact he has smiled mysteriously and said, "Oh, I'm delighted to make pictures in the interest of art."

Now the secret is out. Every time Atwill makes a movie he buys a rare canvas. When he makes "Doxor X," it was a "Doxor X" canvas. When he makes "Wax Museum" brought an exquisite Lawrence canvas. "Portrait of Miss Baring." In the same way, the "Vampire" brought a conclusion and an exquisite seventeenth-century portrait from the collection of the Atwill family in Hollywood.

Atwill is not alone in this. He will talk very much about his part in "The Secret of Mme. Blanche," but he'll discuss the merits of George H. Ruggles' "The Secret of Mme. Blanche," which followed it, plenty. And that deep-dyed villain he played in "Murders in the Zoo" brought onto his drawing room a picture of an exquisite beauty and dignity of Gilbert Stuart's "Portrait of a Man." In the same way a Sir Peter Lely, "Court Beauty," followed the making of the "Sphinx." Then Lionel Atwill played the role of the uncle in Marlene Dietrich's latest and, as yet, unreleased picture, "Song of Songs." And the Atwill family is flitting with a gain in the collection of the Atwill family in Hollywood.

DAY'S DEVELOPMENTS IN QUIZ

On J. P. Morgan's Activities

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(UP)—Revelations in the second day of the senate committee's inquiry into the operations of J. P. Morgan & Co. included:

1. A cabinet officer, a former member of the cabinet, national heroes and leading industrialists were on a selected list allowed to purchase securities issued by J. P. Morgan & Co. below cost.

2. The Morgan firm threw millions of dollars into the money markets of New York in a desperate effort to relieve the situation caused by the 1929 stock market crash.

3. Client of Morgan & Co., who deposited millions, asked for no statements of condition of the institution.

4. Senator Carter Glass, democrat, Virginia, declared that if the comptroller of the currency had enforced banking laws in the winter of 1931-32 half of the national banks in the country would have been forced to close.

5. The Morgan & Co. banking business is greater than its business in marketing or handling securities.

6. Morgan declared federal or state supervision of private banks is unnecessary. He asserted he sees nothing wrong with the banking situation as it developed prior to 1929.

7. Evidence submitted by the elder J. P. Morgan in the Pujo house investigation in 1912 was the only public statement made regarding Morgan affairs until the present inquiry.

8. Persons desiring to deposit money in Morgan & Co. must bring proper references, regardless of the amount they desire to deposit.

9. Morgan testified he paid income taxes in England, where he owns an estate, in the years of 1931 and 1932 when he paid no tax to the American government.

big ones shown today as coming within the reach of the house of Morgan.

Testimony revealed that among 63 directors of commercial banks who have received loans from the Morgan private bank were Norman H. Davis, now President Roosevelt's representative in disarmament affairs abroad; Charles G. Dawes, vice president under Calvin Coolidge and former president of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; John W. Davis, Morgan counsel and 1924 democratic presidential candidate; Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the board, U. S. Steel Corporation; Richard Whitney, brother of George Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange.

Further, it was shown during the day that Morgan & Co. maintains deposits of $17,000,000 in 24 other banks, largely in New York, while Drexel & Co., the Morgan & Co. Philadelphia branch, had deposits of $13,000,000 in 14 banks.

Morgan shared the limelight today with Whitney, who seems to be the 67-year-old financier's main reliance in matters concerning the far-reaching business of the big banking house.

The close relation between the house of Morgan and the stock market was revealed today, as another skin in the huge financial web that Pecora is seeking to weave for the enlightenment of congress and the American people.

Morgan has a seat on the New York Stock Exchange, which the late financial magnate said he never sold. He has 32 different brokerage and bond houses. It also holds a membership on the Philadelphia Stock Exchange, two on the Philadelphia Exchange, one on the Philadelphia Exchange, and one on the Philadelphia Exchange.

It operates on occasion to assist its "friends" was clearly shown in the Allegheny Corporation transaction. This corporation, a holding company for the Allegheny Corporation, issued 3,500,000 shares of common stock on February 1, 1929, of which Morgan & Co. bought 1,250,000 shares. Morgan & Co. also bought 1,250,000 shares of common stock of the Allegheny Corporation.

"You may have seen in the papers that we have recently made a public offering of $35,000,000 Allegheny Corporation common stock, convertible 5 per cent. bonds which went off very well."

"In this connection the Guaranty Company offered today $25,000,000 of 5 1/2 per cent. preferred stock. There was also a strong demand for this stock."

The Guaranty Company also sold, privately, some of the common stock at $24 a share.

"We have kept for our own investment some of the common stock at a cost of $20 a share, and although we are making no offering of this stock, it is not the class of security we wish to offer publicly, we are asking you to consider it as a security which would like some of this stock at the same price it is costing us, namely, $20 a share."

"I believe that the stock is selling in the market around $35 to $40 a share, which means very little except that people wish to speculate. We are reserving for you 1,000 shares at $20 a share if you would like to have it. The quoted price of the stock is so you can sell it whenever you wish."

"We just want you to know," the letter said, "we are thinking of it as a security which would like some of this stock at the same price it is costing us, namely, $20 a share."

"For further information regarding this corporation, I am enclosing circular containing the bond issue."

MANY CHANGES MADE
IN FACULTY AT EMORYJack's Post as Vice President
Not To Be Filled; Green
To Teach History.

Numerous changes in the faculty of Emory University for the school year of 1933-34 were announced Wednesday by Harvey W. Cox, president.

Dr. Fletcher Melvin Green, of the University of North Carolina, recently named successor to Dr. Theodore H. Jack, will take over history classes of Professor John P. Corry along with his other duties. Professor Corry has been granted a year's leave of absence.

Dr. Jack was chosen president of Randolph-Macon College, Lynchburg, Va. His place as vice president of Emory will not be filled for the present.

D. R. McMillan Jr., instructor in physics, and Lewis Lamar Clegg, instructor in sociology, were named to the faculty in the college of arts and sciences.

Promotions in the college faculty include Dr. Thomas H. English from associate to professor of English; Dr. J. Harris Parks Jr. from assistant to associate professor of physics, and Professor Raymond B. Nixon, from assistant to associate professor of journalism.

No successor has been named to Dr. William J. Young, who recently resigned as professor of missions, and no permanent changes were made in the law school faculty. Professor Clyde L. Colson was granted a year's leave of absence to enable him to take advantage of a graduate fellowship in the Harvard law school.

Three men are leaving the school of medicine at the close of this year, they being Dr. Wilbur M. Stevenson, instructor in bacteriology and pathology; Dr. Jasper D. West, instructor in gross anatomy, and A. W. Bell, instructor in pharmacology.

Dr. Francis Parker has been named to succeed Dr. Stevenson, and Dr. Arthur P. Rhany, a former member of the faculty, to fill the vacancy in the gross anatomy department. Mr. Bell's successor has not been selected.

Emmett S. Johnson, of Northwestern University, was elected secretary of the Y. M. C. A. to succeed S. L. Carter. No changes were made in faculties of Emory Junior College at Valdosta and at Oxford, Ga., Dr. Cox said.

Dry Violator Held.

Rufus Clark, negro, who had been chased several blocks by Deputy Sheriff Nelms, was arrested on charges of possessing whisky when his car collided with another driven by Dr. L. Davis, secretary of the Steward Foundation of Gammon Theological Seminary, Wednesday. Two gallons of whisky were found in Clark's car and he was lodged in Fulton tower.

Panel 1: Mayor Pincypenny is speaking to Councilman Pinchpenny and Mrs. Pincypenny. He is proposing a civic center.
 BUT, REALLY, I COULD NEVER AFFORD IT--- THAT IS---
 BUT THINK WHAT A CIVIC CENTER WOULD MEAN TO COSMIC CITY-- THIS TOWN NEEDS IT-- IT'D HAVE A LIBRARY, AN' GAME ROOMS, AND A SWIMMIN' POOL, AND A BIG AUD'ITORIUM, WHERE WE COULD GIVE PLAYS--

Panel 2: Councilman Pinchpenny is responding, questioning the cost.
 ER- YES- YES- I KNOW-- SUCH AN ENTERPRISE WOULD BE FINE- BUT THINK WHAT IT WOULD COST--

Panel 3: Mayor Pincypenny continues to argue the benefits, while Councilman Pinchpenny and Mrs. Pincypenny look skeptical.
 COST? SHUX-- MR. AGATE, HERE, SAYS IT'D COST ONLY FIFTEEN OR TWENTY THOUSAND, FOR A SWELL LAYOUT-- COURSE YOU COULD GO HIGHER--

Panel 4: Councilman Pinchpenny is now speaking, questioning the cost again.
 FIFTEEN OR TWENTY THOUSAND-- GREAT SCOTT-- DO YOU THINK I'M MADE OF MONEY? NO-- I WON'T ER----- ER--
 WELL, I ONLY FIGGERED YOU'D BE GLAD TO DO SOMETHIN' SWELL FOR TH' TOWN--- BUT, O' COURSE, IF YOU FEEL THAT WAY---
 HA! HA! OF COURSE, IT'S A GREAT IDEA-- I TELL YOU WHAT-- WE'LL HAVE SOME PLANS DRAWN, EH? AND GET SOME BIDS--
 GEE MR. PINCHPENNY-- I KNOW YOU'D GO FOR A FINE THING LIKE THAT, AS SOON AS YOU THOUGHT IT OVER--

BY CAROLYN WELLS

"I'll have it put in your room for you tonight. You're staying over, aren't you?"

"I didn't intend to, but that business I'm bothered by will last one more day. So—"

"Not another word. Stay just as long as you find it convenient."

"You're a brick, Stone. I'm proud to know you."

"Thank you for pretty compliments. Now I must scoot. I've a lot on for today. Be here for dinner; we're having wild duck."

"Good! Trust we to be on hand."

Stone went off in search of Plum, and they made short work of the morning's mail.

"I want you to meet me here at 11:30, Plum," the detective said. "Routine work till then and we must be at old man Simpson's at noon."

"The beginning of the end?" guessed Plum, shrilly.

"It may be; I sincerely hope so." Simpson had telephoned Stone early that morning to come around at noon. By good luck he had put the autopsies through sooner than he had hoped, but the results were far from being what he had looked for.

And so, when Fleming Stone and Plum arrived at the offices of the old doctor, they were met by a disappointed man.

"I can't get it, Stone," he said. "It is too elusive. It doesn't look like what it must be and it looks like what it can't be."

"Rather cryptic, aren't you?" Stone said, with a somewhat rueful smile. "Well, since you can't make the grade, suppose you give me the satisfaction of telling me what you were trying to do."

"Trying to find the reason for a natural coronary necrosis, and all I get is a lot of contrary evidence."

"Just what sort of evidence are you getting?"

It had suddenly dawned on Stone that Doctor Simpson was beginning to show the effects of his age. He felt he must tread warily.

"Tell me more," he urged, gently. "About this contrary evidence, I mean."

"Well, just take a look at this heart. This one is Malden's, the other is young Cole's."

Aunt Het

JUST NUTS

"Maybe it's common, but I'd rather pass the toothpicks to my company than to see 'em set an' do it with their tongues."

(Copyright, 1933, for The Constitution.)

JUST NUTS

"Right. I'm looking at them."

"You don't see any foreign matter, do you? Anything extraneous?"

Fleming Stone looked carefully and then said:

"Nothing coming at all. Oh, wait a minute! Just then, I saw a tiny flash as of metal or glass—"

"Oh, man? Do you really? Look again."

"It's gone. I don't see it now. But it was infinitesimal. The merest speck, I hardly saw it at all."

"But glass! If it was glass it must be there yet. You must find it, look again. Here's a lens—"

Stone took the magnifying glass and scrutinized the place where he had seen or thought he had seen the glass.

"Yes, there it is!" he exclaimed, himself excited now. "But such a tiny speck it can't mean anything."

"It must mean something! Don't lose sight of it again. Here, let me see it!"

Plum drew near, and all three men were gazing with interest as Dr. Simpson lifted, with the tiniest of calipers, a speck of glass, and laid the precious morsel on a small slab.

"Oh," he exclaimed in the deepest admiration, "what a fine specimen! The perfect method, the complete alibi. Oh, what a mind!"

"I wish you'd let up on your rhapsodies and get on with all about it," Stone said to Dr. Simpson. "I only know you have a microscopic bit of glass, and you seem to forget that I gave it to you, at that! What does it mean?"

"Go away, oh, go away!" The old doctor was fairly dancing round in his excitement. "Mr. Plum take the man away or I'll lose all I've gained. Take him away from his own good! I beg of you, I cannot let alone. Listen, Fleming Stone! You have done this, you have found the clue to this case. Now, I tell you, you don't take yourself off. I'll destroy this bit of glass and leave you where you were when you came here. Listen! Go off now, and come back at five this afternoon, and I'll tell you everything—everything, I say. Stay any other moment now—and I'll tell you nothing, now or at any time."

Even after this declaration, Fleming Stone had to be dragged away by his secretary, who saw the old man was in dead earnest, and feared Stone would be foolish enough to jeopardize his own good fortune. Plum fairly pushed his employer through the door.

"Good for you, Plum," the detective said, laughing. "I confess I was a little too much imbued with the old man's enthusiasm. But I'm crazy to know what he has discovered. Well, I've enough to do until 5 o'clock. And so tonight see the windup of the Malden case. Do you know who is the criminal, old man?"

"Indeed I don't. Do tell me, Mr. Stone; I won't tell."

"Nonsense, control your impatience. You'll know all at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Until then, you must have patience—as I must."

They parted company, and Stone made for the nearest telephone. He called up Perilla.

"You're to have a small party tonight," he told her. "Just invite the list I'll give you now. Pencil names?"

"Oh, yes, she replied. "Go ahead."

The list Stone gave her was almost the same as the wedding party. He added Madame Malden and Farman, Garth, himself and Plum.

"You see," he went on, "the case is concluded."

"Oh, Mr. Stone!" exclaimed Perilla, "Do you mean that?"

"Yes, but don't ask me questions about it over the telephone. You'll know all this evening. And, Mrs. Malden, you must bring your people come. If anyone seems unwilling or unable to be there, use your cajolery, your persuasion, your wiles, but make them come. See?"

"Yes," said Perilla. "Will it be a shock?"

PERKINS CONFUSED IN SHOES FIGURES

Atlanta Executive Attacks Labor Secretary's Statements.

Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, was probably confused in her records of production and consumption when she referred to "putting shoes on the people of the south." C. W. Butler, vice president of the J. K. Orr shoe company, of Atlanta, who challenged her statement by saying the southern woman is the best shod person in the United States, he believes.

Mr. Butler pointed out that the department of commerce does not keep records on consumption of shoes and that because of the scarcity of shoe factories in the south, Miss Perkins was probably confused by the records of low production here.

"The south buys shoes from all sections of the country," said Mr. Butler, "and the section's consumption of footwear is greatly in excess of production."

Mr. Butler said he had observed the set of people in all sections of the country and that without question, the southern woman is better shod than women in Boston, New York, Philadelphia or any other section.

"Our school children," he added, "certainly are more generally shod than in New York. There is hardly a school in Atlanta where pupils do not wear shoes almost unanimously—and especially is that true in the junior high institutions."

The shoe executive pointed out that while children in the south do go barefoot around their homes, that such is the case in all sections of the country.

"And in the rural sections," he said, "every person has a pair of shoes. A few farmers might go barefoot during the week simply because they prefer that, but on Sunday when he goes to church the farmer wears shoes. Farmers go barefoot in all sections."

A cotton mill executive said it was imperative for operatives to wear footwear in all mills in the south.

Assistant Jinky Editor Is Snowed Under

Like a veritable cloudburst, jinkys came to headquarters Wednesday by the thousands. Above is a snapshot of the assistant to the jinky editor, literally buried under thousands of jinkys. But even though he is carrying a load on his shoulders, he is smiling. Jinkys bring joy to everyone. Start in this interesting and fascinating contest today. You get jinkys at 34 of Atlanta's leading places of business, absolutely free. Cut them and get the best design. When making your purchases or paying your bills, always ask for jinky receipts. You get one receipt with each 25-cent purchase or payment on account. With every ten receipts you can enter one jinky in the contest. Ten receipts may win you a $25 diamond ring or a six months' pass to a theater, or a bicycle, or a wrist watch, or $15 in cash, or any one of a large number of other prizes. Get in on the fun. It's profitable and enjoy.

Annapolis, West Point Appointee, Atlanta Youth Picks Navy Career

An appointee to both the United States naval and military academies, Felix de Golan Jr., 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix de Golan Sr., 1859 Peachtree road, has chosen Annapolis as the institution where he will train to become an officer in the service of Uncle Sam.

The unusual situation arose after he had been appointed third alternate Annapolis by former Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. While waiting for examination reports, young de Golan was appointed by Congress to Robert Ramspeck to West Point. Shortly after the appointment, the first appointee and two alternates to Annapolis failed to pass the tests, leaving both schools open to Mr. de Golan.

The appointee, who is a graduate of Marietta College and a junior at Georgia Tech, will leave Atlanta on June 5 to enter Annapolis. At prep school he was battalion adjutant in military and adjudged the best cadet, and at Tech, where he was in the naval R. O. T. C., he won a cup for having the best drilled squad in the school. He is sports editor of The Technique, campus publication, and secretary-treasurer of the Bulldog Club. He is a Sigma Chi and won a numeral in boxing in the 130-pound class.

SPECIAL MESSAGE SENT TO WOMEN BY G. F. W. C. HEAD

RICHMOND, Va., May 24.—(AP)—Women of America today were called upon to so live that their actions will speak louder than words in bringing about "a rebirth of an old world into a new day."

This message above all others is the one Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs wants to convey to the women of the United States.

"Last night," she said, "the honorable Louise McHenry Howe, secretary to the president of the United States, reminded the women of our organization and indirectly the women of the country that in our hands lay the power to bring about a new kingdom here on earth."

"He was only repeating the history of woman's accomplishment up unto the twentieth century and her tenacity of purpose when once she clearly sees the way civilization should walk."

"We have been all too ready and willing in these chaotic times to use the alibi that because the way is not clear we cannot unite upon a plan of action."

"The objectives of living have not changed in the least. We want a chance to earn an honest living, and we want the opportunity for every child to be normally born, properly educated and in the broad sense of the word in a world that gives to him a background of good government, Christian living and honest citizenship."

"These have been the aims of all true citizens from the beginning of our present-day civilization, and I call upon the women of these United States to so live themselves that their actions speak louder than words, so that in every little hamlet, town and city in this great nation of ours there shall be a rebirth of an old world into a new day."

WEDDED 4 TIMES, DIVORCED ONCE, PASTOR IS FREED

SPOKANE, Wash., May 24.—(AP)—With four marriages and one divorce to his credit, the Rev. William J. Parry, Rockford, Wash., evangelist, was freed of a bigamy charge in justice court here but the judge found him guilty of vagrancy.

In England, Parry said, he married and joined up for the Boer war. This wife he had was dead, and he married again. He then went to Toronto and married again. What happened to this wife was not clear, but the evangelist denied in court yesterday he had deserted her.

In 1925 he said he heard the Canadian wife was dead, so he had his English marriage annulled and married Anna Reese at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. Attorneys told him this marriage was not valid, and he married Anna Gardner, at Rockford, four months ago.

"This man appears to have made a mistake," said Justice Crimmins. "I do not believe he is a bad man. He appears not to have committed bigamy, so I shall find him guilty of vagrancy and suspend sentence."

ALTITUDE ERROR LAID TO PRESSURE IN AKRON HEARING

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—Commander H. V. Wiley, executive officer and one of three survivors of the Akron disaster, told a joint congressional committee today that weather conditions may have caused an error of 200 feet in barometric altitude readings the night the airship crashed.

Under questioning of Henry Breckinridge, committee counsel, Wiley said air pressure the night of the storm, April 4, would have been sufficient to bring about such a difference.

"Did you have an altitude sounding device?" Breckinridge asked.

"Yes, sir, but it was accurate only within 50 to 100 feet."

Wiley said, however, he felt the altitude of the ship was sufficient to normally insure its safety.

MITCHELL FACES SECOND CHARGE

Another Pretended Sale of Stock Charged to New York Banker.

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—United States District Attorney George Z. Medall turned in federal court today to the second charge against Charles E. Mitchell—that he pretended to sell in 1930 to W. D. Thornton 8,500 shares of Anaconda stock in order to show a loss on his income tax return.

Daniel T. Bergin, office manager of Harnsblower & Weeks, testified about the transaction between Mitchell and Thornton.

By records and testimony the jury was told that Thornton, borrowing money from the firm of J. P. Morgan, bought from Mitchell on December 26, 1930, 8,500 shares of Anaconda for $229,500.

For the time being the Morgans, who already held the stock against a loan made to Mitchell in 1929, retained the 8,500 shares together with 2,500 more as collateral for the loan to Thornton.

On May 4, 1931, the records showed Mitchell, through the Harnsblower & Weeks brokerage firm, bought the stock back for $200,000, which he borrowed from the Guaranty Trust Company. Three days later the 8,500 shares, plus the additional 2,500 shares, were delivered to the trust company to be held as collateral for Mitchell's loan there.

"Do these records indicate," Medall inquired, "the 2,500 shares were transferred to Mr. Mitchell without charging to Mrs. Mitchell?"

"Yes," replied the witness.

Two years after Mitchell sold 18,300 shares of bank stock to Mr. Gerard Swope testified the former banker went before the National City Company's directors to suggest reimbursement for his loss.

Swope, president of the General Electric Company and a director of both the National City bank and the National City Company, said that the former chairman of the National City bank made no specific request, but presented his claim in "broad terms."

Simons Seeks Street Paving In Bobby Jones Course Area

Easy Access to Newly-Completed Golf Links Urgently Needed, Says City Park Head.

Importance of paving street stretches to provide access to the newly completed Bobby Jones golf course was stressed Wednesday by George I. Simons, general manager of parks.

Simons pointed out that actual work on the clubhouse is almost ready to begin and that the city will be able to open to the public the finest municipal course in the south, but that present paving makes it virtually inaccessible.

He and the parks committee of council plan to ask the aid of the Fulton county commission in the work in order to facilitate the matter and to insure early opening of the course under the most favorable circumstances.

Under the program, Memorial drive must be surfaced from Dellwood drive to Club plaza, Club plaza from Memorial drive to Whitmore, and westward to Montview drive, which should be surfaced to Peachtree Battle avenue. The eastern terminus of Memorial drive also must be extended into Northside drive, it was pointed out.

All streets in the area already have a rock foundation, and the curbs have been laid. The only remaining work to provide easy and ready access to the new course clubhouse, which will be erected just south of the intersection of Club plaza and Memorial drive, is to roll the foundations and place a binder there. It is estimated that the entire project would call for less than half a mile of actual paving.

"Atlanta, with the aid already furnished by Fulton county, is about ready to open the finest municipal golf course in the south," Simons said. "The only obstacle remaining is the paving of these short stretches and the extension of Memorial drive to Northside drive. Fulton county has been generous in helping develop this course. We must enable those wishing to play to get to the course. We plan to ask the commission to do this work immediately."

recently was granted a 30-day respite by the governor to appear as a witness in another case. The respite is up on Saturday.

Motion for a new trial for Emmett Gibson, another negro jointly indicted with Davis in another charge of murder, that of killing Hamp McGehee, was postponed Wednesday until next Monday before Judge Pomeroy. Gibson also was given the death penalty.

'May Carnival and Dance Revue' Takes Place at Pinebloom Today

The "May Carnival and Dance Revue" to be staged at Pinebloom, the home of Mrs. Preston S. Arkwright, at 1585 Ponce de Leon avenue, in Druid Hills, on Thursday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, will be colorful and entertaining event.

"Dance," the famous trained dog will be exhibited for the amusement of the small guests at the colorful and unique entertainment to be given this afternoon. He will be shown by his owner, Ben O'Steen. Mrs. Robert Whitley and Miss Pam Johnson will direct each performance of this remarkable animal, the performances to be held in the garage at Pinebloom. Circus posters will adorn the walls and festive streamers and banners will float from the rafters of the garage.

Circle Sponsors Event.
Pupils of Sarah Wagstaff Rogers will present the dance revue program entitled "Woodland Sketches." The event will be sponsored by the members of Circle No. 5 of the First Methodist church. Funds accruing from the affair will be applied to the philanthropic work of the circle as the members are taking care of worthy dependents and invited the public to patronize the carnival. Admission for adults will be 25 cents and children will be admitted for 10 cents.

Enclosed in the rose-covered summer house will be talented Mrs. E. Broom, who will make pencil sketches of the children for 25 cents each. Mrs. George Howard Jr. will assist her. Mrs. Alice Denton Jennings, whose ability as a palmitist has won city-wide recognition, will give readings of three minutes for 25 cents and will be assisted by Mrs. George Curry. Brilliant-hued balloons will be sold by Mesdames Ralph Parrish, Ralph Quillian, William Nixon, Baxter Maddox and Misses Mary Carter, Peggy Stewart, Patricia Stewart and Julia Fleet. A prize basket in charge of Mrs. F. M. Strickland assisted by Misses Sue Burnett, Charlotte Chapman and Edith Chapman, will be a feature.

Ponies for children to ride, and ponies drawing smart red carts, in which children can take rides, will interest the guests and Mrs. Sydney Daniel will be in charge of this exhibit. Lemonade and home-made cookies will be sold by Mesdames Wilson Kemp and Frank Bell. A quartet of the younger masculine set will be in charge of the Coca-Cola booth, the group including Glenville Arkwright, Widdings, Frank Bristol, George Foote, Bob Rauchenberg and Jimmie Strain. The ticket committee includes Mesdames George Howard, B. Conners, A. M. Lloyd, Anita Armstrong, Colby Lewis and Miss Julia Hammond.

Children Taking Part.

Army Polo Game Interests Society

FORT McPHERSON, Ga., May 24. Announcement is made by the polo committee that a game will be played Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the post polo field between the team from the Governor's Horse Guards and the Fort McPherson squad. Assembling members of the Atlanta, as well as the garrison social contingent, the game will be of special interest. In view of the horse show held recently at Piedmont park, the polo games planned for the past two weeks were postponed, and Sunday's game will be witnessed by hundreds of spectators. Lieutenant J. K. Baker is the captain of the Fort McPherson team and Lieutenant Wesley Moran is the captain of the guardsmen. The players for the garrison will include Major Reese M. Howell, Captain Albert G. Wing, Captain L. W. Foy, Lieutenant J. K. Baker and O. A. Shubert. The guards will have in the lineup P. D. Christian Jr., Gerald Graham, W. R. Williamson, Joseph Cook and Lieutenant Moran.

Mrs. Nixon Honored.
Mrs. Vaughn Nixon entertained at tea Wednesday at her home on Andrews drive, honoring her daughter, Mrs. William Markley Nixon, the former Miss Elizabeth Matthews, of Thomasville, Ga. Assisting the hostess in entertaining were her daughters, Mrs. Malon Courts and Mrs. William Parker.

Mrs. Nelson Conducts Y. W. C. A. Forum This Evening

The Y. W. C. A. Business Girls' League will have as forum leader this evening Claude Nelson, student secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who will continue the discussion series on "Reconstructing Our Religious Thinking." Dr. Herman L. Turner, president of the Christian Council, is invited to conduct the forum next Thursday evening.

The recent election of officers resulted as follows: President, Miss Mary Stevenson; vice president, Miss Martha Manning; secretary, Miss Marcelia Street, and treasurer, Miss Thelma Towns. Miss Stevenson succeeds Miss Louise Walker, who has presided most capably during the past year.

Club members are interested in the delegates announced to represent the Atlanta business girls' department at the southern conference to be held at Camp Nakawana, Tenn., June 19. The Business Girls' League voted for Misses Mary Stevenson, Martha Manning, Marcelia Street, Agnes Ragdale, Naomi Myers, Gladys Ellison, Claire Hunnicutt and Evelyn Williams to represent their club, while Misses Reggie Sue Daniel, Sara Smith and Thelma Cobb were elected from the Southern Bell "Y" Club. Two representatives from S. O. S. Club and a committee delegate will be announced shortly. Miss Flora Hatcher, business girls' secretary, will be one of the program leaders at conference. Business girls will continue their club activities at 37 Auburn avenue from July 29 to August 7. Convenient commuters rates will be offered to business girls and women who enjoy spending warm summer nights in cool Highland hills while continuing their jobs.

Notable Visitors To Be Guests Of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Hungerford

A trio of notable visitors, including the Count George de Manoir, of Paris and New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gifford, of New York, will arrive Saturday to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hungerford at Juanita, their handsome Italian villa on Pace's Ferry road. Miss Josephine Crawford will honor these distinguished visitors with a dinner party Saturday evening at the Piedmont Driving Club, the guests to include a limited number of close friends. Miss Gretchen Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Gross, of Jacksonville, Fla., who is visiting Miss Crawford, will share honors with the eastern visitors at Miss Crawford's party Saturday evening.

On Sunday evening, May 28, Mr. and Mrs. Hungerford will be hosts at a buffet supper at their Pace's Ferry road residence in compliment to their visitors, the guests to include a group of fashionable members of Atlanta society. Count de Manoir and Mr. and Mrs. Gifford will stop here en route to New York from Miami, Fla., where they have been numbered among the elite spending the winter and spring months on the south's Riviera. The French nobleman and his Atlanta hosts met last summer in Europe, where the latter were spending their honeymoon and where they were entertained in Paris

President of Furman Reported Improved

GASTONIA, S. C., May 24.—(P)—Hope for the recovery of Dr. William Joseph McGlothlin, president of Furman University, who has been near death in City hospital here, was expressed by physicians tonight.

"He apparently is very much better early tonight," said Dr. L. N. Gies, staff surgeon of the hospital. He spent the best day he has had lately and his general appearance is better. We feel much more hopeful and his condition is more promising."

WOMEN OF CHURCHES FAVOR GOODWIN PLAN

Unanimous support of the Goodwin plan, a co-operative system designed by the Goodwin Corporation of Chicago to lighten the financial burdens of churches, was given by a meeting of women's church societies held at the Piedmont hotel on Wednesday.

Rex M. Davis, of the Goodwin Corporation, president of the meeting, explained his company's system which, through the co-operation of church women, he said, proposes to help churches financially and to advance the principles of social justice, as adopted by all churches.

Dr. Leon Williams, of Atlanta, was introduced to the guests of the luncheon as the district manager appointed by Mr. Davis to supervise the operation of the plan locally. He will launch a 60-day campaign in which time he expects to secure the co-operation of every woman's church society in Atlanta.

At the conclusion of the luncheon the women present signed agreements to present the Goodwin plan to their respective church societies.

Miamian Pleads Guilty To Being 'Damn Fool'

MIAMI, Fla., May 24.—(P)—George "Bugs" Raymond today was sentenced to 12 months in the county jail, with 11 months suspended, after he told Federal Judge Alexander Akerman he was "just a damn fool" for offering a bribe to a federal venator.

Raymond admitted he offered Frank Strubbe, prospective juror, $100 for a mistrial or $300 for acquittal of Dr. V. K. Jindra, charged with aiding in the sale of narcotics.

Questioned by Judge Akerman whether he was deprived of corrupt, lapsed, or just a "damn fool," Raymond answered he was the last named.

NOW SAFE RELIEF OF HEADACHES

Dr. Caldwell's prescription powders do not cause unpleasant after-effects; they are free from all narcotics. But they do act rapidly, relieving splitting headaches, even severe neuralgic pains within a few minutes of taking. Headache powders are the sensible way to end any headache, and Dr. Caldwell's prescription powders are safe! They are not expensive, either. These safe and reliable prescription powders come in packets of three for ten cents—(adv.)

Atlantans Visit Connahaynee Lodge

TATE MOUNTAIN ESTATES, Ga., May 24.—Some 85 Atlantans registered at Connahaynee Lodge during the past week-end. The Lake George golf course has been put in splendid condition, and the new and fine of fine horses at Tate Mountain Estates are attractive features of this Georgia resort.

Since last year the road through Marietta, Canton, Tate and Jasper has been completely paved and the road up the mountain is surfaced for all-weather driving. Telephone and power lines have been installed during the last few weeks and the new road makes Tate Mountain Estates only two hours distant by motor from Atlanta.

Atlantans registered at the lodge were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McNeil and children of Marietta; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allcorn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Stearns, E. W. Cottenstrater, Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Beers, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Coddie, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Coan, Mrs. William H. ## Mrs. Beam Plans Tea Honoring Visitor.

Among interesting affairs complementing visitors in the city will be the tea at which Mrs. Jerome C. Beam will entertain Friday afternoon, May 26, at 5 o'clock at her home on Brighton road, complementing her sister, Mrs. William S. Gillespie, of Short Hills, N. J., who is spending several weeks as her guest. The 50 guests will include friends of the honor guest, who is a former Atlanta.

Mrs. Gillespie is en route home from California, where she has spent the past several months. Accompanied by Mrs. Beam, Mrs. Gillespie motored to the west coast in December, and after the return of the Atlanta remained in California for a more extended visit. This attractive guest will be in Atlanta until the early part of next week.

Mrs. Walker Calls Meeting.

Mrs. R. Murdoch Walker, president of Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, calls the last meeting of the executive board of the club president for Friday morning, May 26, at 10 o'clock on the second floor of the Atlanta Gas Light Company at 243 Peachtree street.

Mrs. J. N. Brawner, the first vice president, will preside and chairmen will make full reports of their two years' work and it is requested they be carefully prepared for the year book.

Business of importance is to be transacted and a full attendance of officers, chairmen and club presidents is desired, although the club presidents will not make their reports until the open meeting of the federation, which will be held at the Druid Hills Club Wednesday, May 31.

Banquet and Dance.

The senior class of Druid Hills High school will give its annual banquet and dance at East Lake Country Club Friday, May 26, at 6 o'clock. The dance will begin at 10 o'clock and last until 2.

The seniors invite their friends to worship with them Sunday, May 28, at 11 o'clock at the Glenn Memorial church. Dr. W. H. Rogers will preach the baccalaureate sermon. Special music has been arranged by the Emory University Glee Club for the service.

Operetta Is Planned.

"The Magic Broomstick," an operetta in three acts, will be given at the Peachtree Christian church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The play is directed by Raymond Johnson, choruses directed by Florence Johnson, dances executed by Sara Wagstaff Rogers and costumes by Evelyn Wilson Malcolm. The operetta is sponsored by the choir and Circle No. 8 of the Peachtree Christian church. The public is invited. Admission for adults will be 25 cents, children 15 cents.

COTTON DEALER DIES IN 11-STORY PLUNGE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 24.—(UP)—W. Percy Kenworthy, 48, cotton dealer, plunged to his death from an eleventh-floor window of the Memphis Cotton Exchange building late today, just eight minutes before a suit for divorce was filed against him in circuit court.

Attorneys for Mrs. Kenworthy, who was in Knoxville, withdrew the suit immediately upon learning of the defendant's death and a deputy circuit clerk wrote "void" on the bill nine minutes after it was filed.

Friendly Counsel BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondents are invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield: I hold a very good position, but my social life amounts to nothing. I am 24 years old so you see social life to me means men. I have several girl friends but they are in the same fix I am in. Somehow I never have an opportunity to meet men, though I have tried to devise ways and means to meet them. I have average looks and do everything to enhance them. But all the same, I sit at home in the evening or take myself out. Can you offer any suggestions? A. L. O.

Answer: There are two ways of going after what you want in this world; one is the direct method of approach to the goal and the other is the indirect or round-about method. Those following the first course have no second of which to be proud, the way and those following the second method enjoy and utilize every experience that they have, though they never see sight of the ultimate goal, no matter how circuitous the route toward it may be.

In spite of the fact that women have made such strides and progressed so far in business, professions and politics, they are just where they were many generations ago in matters social. They must still sit back and wait to be sought out by the men or, if they are too impatient to do this, they are compelled to do their reconnoitering and deploying under cover. Otherwise (they know this, if they are clever) the aggressive males will brand them as aggressive females, a class men despise and run from.

So it comes about that a girl must employ a little guile in seeking to find that social life which to her means—men. She should make friends with the people in the office where she works, with the people in the home where she boards. She should join some organization that will widen her acquaintance, and give her an opportunity to serve her community as well as her own selfish interests.

Now it may sound strange to suggest to a girl that she go to church and form connection with some church in order to make acquaintance with men. Yet there is no surer way.

There are some distinct advantages in this method, too. All good men don't go to church, nor are all those who do go to church, but the main, however, only moral-minded, decent men seek out the church and the church people. Other types have an attitude toward it and its frequenters much as the criminal does toward the jail and officers of the law. When a criminal passes a policeman he cuts his eye at him and he does not walk by the jail if he can avoid it.

Every church worthy of the name has a social program for its people that includes mixed gatherings held for the purpose of drawing them together under auspicious conditions.

As a forward looking church recognizes this natural desire of young men and women to meet each other socially and it recognizes, too, that young business women away from home have scant opportunity to make suitable acquaintances.

But understand the church doesn't run a marriage bureau. It doesn't exist for the purpose of helping a young woman to catch a beau. It has a much higher mission—only those that are willing to support it are entitled to enjoy its benefits. Most city churches have organizations for its business women and while these organizations are for women exclusively every new acquaintance constitutes a link in a never ending chain of acquaintanceship. Who can tell how far the chain may reach?

threads which hold the balls to the tape look weak and insignificant when shown up against a strong material such as this calico.

The lamp shade used the ball fringe in the same fashion. The effect at the top and bottom of shade was really very good. Nancy had seen so many of these calico and ball fringe shades with the ball fringe dangling from the edge of the shade that she enjoyed her method of using it.

The lamp shade was lined with a thin yellow silk which gave a pleasing glow to the lighted lamp. Then, too, the lining hid any seams or joining of the top covering of calico.

Nancy was having the best time making this lamp shade. She wanted to use them in a room at the summer cottage.

First, she found a small, well-made wooden box, the kind of the top with a layer of Canton flannel.

The sides and bottom were left unpadded.

Old-fashioned print calico in yellow and red was used to cover the box outside. The inside was lacquered or enameled yellow. The only trimming was ball fringe in red.

Instead of putting it on the usual fashion with the straight edge at top and the edge from which depended the balls at the bottom she reversed it. This allowed the balls to fall down over the band of tape and gave the effect of a more substantial trimming. Often the narrow twisted

By JOHN L. COOLEY.

NEW YORK, May 24.—(P)—Markets maintained their upward direction today, activity being especially noticeable on security exchanges.

At the close the general stock average was in new high ground for the year, though final prices on the New York stock exchange were somewhat under the top group strength.

Group strength was found in food, alcohol, tobacco and rail issues; utilities had a calmer market. On the basis of closing quotations, the carrier and industrial divisions, as well as the general 90-stock average, attained new 1933 highs, the former bettering its 1932 top, a feat which chart followers found encouraging inasmuch as industrial had been making a similar record. Sales totaled 4,720,000 shares.

Some momentum for the rise appeared to have been provided by the fact that credit expansion under the new law was being undertaken by the federal reserve system. Internal purchases of government securities, for example, around $25,000,000, whereas last year's open market activities of the central bank witnessed, for a time, a weekly increase of $100,000,000 in the system's portfolio.

Mid-week trade indicators were cheerful, embracing gains in steel and electric power output as well as favorable car loadings. Many stocks reached new highs on a rise of 1 to 3 points. The upper level of that range being exceeded by a few. Most of the extreme gains were in the food group.

Union Pacific was a feature, soaring to 100 for a net gain of 1-1/2. National distillers and Libby-Owens-Ford followed several food stocks in the advance. United States Steel, General Electric, American Telephone, International Telephone and American Express, all gained. Atlantic Coast Line, Du Pont, Liggett & Myers, B. Westinghouse and United States Steel preferred closed at new highs. While National Steel was up nearly 4.

Iron Age estimated steel operations at 88 per cent of capacity, highest since June, 1931, and a rise of three percentage points for the week. Buyers and sellers alike, it stated, have shown "renewed confidence in the persistence of recent improvement," while retail purchases of new cars are accelerating rather than slackening.

Electric power output last week was 33 per cent above a year ago, the third successive improvement. The traffic figured to another rise over 1932 figures when final figures are available on last week's loadings.

Commodities closed at new highs, although cotton after rising about $1 a bale, lost its gain on selling attributed to weather news which had earlier been ignored as a market more interested in inflationary possibilities.

Brokers' Views

STOCK OPINIONS.

FENNER, BEANS & UNGERLIDER.

From a strictly trading viewpoint, early strength in our market, should be used to lighten commitments.

DOBBS & CO.—Business news appears to continue favorable. The underlying market will probably be a restraining influence until a bill is actually ready for signing.

DEER & CO.—The underlying market trend seems definitely upward, we favor the course of purchasing on dips stocks of corporations that are favored by government policies.

FENNER, BEANS & UNGERLIDER.

We prefer to use periods of strength for acceptance of positions. We are inclined to confine purchases to good reasons until definite news is forthcoming from Washington in regard to curtailment of area seeded to cotton.

RUBIN, DOROS & CO. TO DOBBS & CO.—We doubt if a market that takes place and believe that a further advance may occur on any favorable news. Liverpool July due cotton and wool is the reaction, so the logical thing to do is to buy cotton on reactions and take moderate profits until the market can be gotten on the general price rise.

FENNER, BEANS & UNGERLIDER.

At the moment political action and plans completely dominate the grain market and are being ignored. The market is being driven to higher prices.

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN.

CHICAGO, May 24.—(P)—Rapid new upturns of grain prices today resulted from inflation talk and from indications of determined efforts at Washington to hoist farm commodity values.

Wheat closed nervous, 1-1/2 to 2 cents above yesterday's finish, unchanged to 5-8 to 3-4 higher, oats 1-5 off to 1-2 up, and provisions showing to 15 cents gain.

Wheat and oats borrowed strength from wheat. At the day's top, corn came within 1-2 cent of the season's high price record. Rye temporarily outdid the record.

Provisions were responsive to grain strength.

TARZAN THE APE MAN No. 52

The ape-man removed the sleeve from his captive's blouse with one jerk as Jean pleaded: "Oh, please let me go!" He repeated after her the one syllable, "Go!" The girl's face lighted up, and she nodded eagerly, thinking he might understand. "Yes, go! Go!" she repeated.

Nodding in imitation of her, the ape-man, as he curiously examined the torn sleeve, repeated in a monotone: "Go-go-go-go." Moving gingerly, as if afraid of being stopped, Jean began cautiously and with great difficulty to climb down the tree.

The ape-man seemed to be paying more attention to the sleeve than to what the girl was doing. But just as she reached the branch below, and with great difficulty, he reached down one strong hand and put her back where she started from.

92-Degree Maximum*Forecast for TodayGenerally fair weather with a continuation of temperatures in the neighborhood of 90 degrees in the forecast for Atlanta today, according to George Minding, United States meteorologist. There is little or no prospect of rain, he said.
The temperature today will range between 70 and 92 degrees, said Mr.
Minding, getting considerably higher than Wednesday, when the mercury ranged from 68 to 86 degrees. The temperature has been attaining a maximum of almost 90 degrees for several days in Atlanta and reached
90 on Tuesday and 91 on Sunday.Gandhi Grows Weaker*But Expected To LivePOONA, India, May 24.—(AP)—Da-

JAPANESE PUSH ON
DESPITE 'TRUCE'*Chinese Prepare To Continue Defense, Unaware of Developments.By HERBERT R. EKINS.
WITH THE CHINESE TROOPS
OUTSIDE PEIPING, May 24.—(UP)—
Grim-faced Chinese soldiers were entrenched against the Japanese tonight, fighting and apparently prepared to continue to fight unaware of any truce agreement as reported in Tokyo and Peiping.
Fighting on this and near-by sectors is almost continuous as the Japanese columns sweep along the dustyhighways toward the ancient capital.
I sat in their trenches flanking the Pai-ho, or White river, on the outskirts of a village called Liang-chow about this afternoon. We were five miles southeast of Tanchow, a suburb of Peiping 32 miles out from the city walls.
The Japanese shelled our sector occasionally, but the main action was across the narrow, muddy stream at the village of Wu-chi-chuang. Their men, moving forward in waves, came over the flat country behind the heavy artillery barrage. The Chinese registered stubbornly, but fell back slowly
in face of a terrible rain of shells.
The defense on this sector was in charge of General Pang Ping-huan's 40th division of Nanking regulars and General Sung Chen-yuan's 20th route army."It's impossible to have a truce and be fighting simultaneously," I heard a Chinese officer remark when reports from Peiping and Tientsin of an armistice were relayed to these men on the front.
And that's exactly the attitude the Chinese troops are taking. Before I left to motor out to the front, and then march along dodging into trenches and behind trees on the Chinese side of the front, reports of an armistice were coming into Peiping from the military headquarters of the Japanese.
General Ho Ying-ching, the Chinese war minister and commanding the Peiping defense forces, again saidSorority President Here
On 3,600-Mile Air TourA 3,600-mile tour of the United States by Mrs. Edna H. Dench, Phi-delphia, Pa., national president of Alpha Xi Delta sorority, reached Atlanta today late
Wednesday afternoon when Mrs.
Dench arrived in Atlanta by American Airways plane from Birmingham, Ala. She has visited 20 colleges and crossed as many states since May 1 and will reach her home again June 2, by Eastern Air Transport plane from Atlanta.
While in Atlanta she will visit
Alpha Xi Delta chapters at Georgia University, Oglethorpe University and other neighboring colleges.There was no truce, but that they were trying to effect one so that his order to evacuate might be carried out without disaster during the turnover to the Japanese.
That welcome news had reached these lines, though, and the fighting continued within sound of Peiping.Dr. Hope To SpeakPresident John Hope of Atlanta University, leaves this morning for Tuskegee, Ala., where he is to deliver the address at the commencement exercises of Tuskegee Institute this afternoon.MORTUARYWILLIAM C. STUBBLEFIELD.

To Close 2 Weeks EarlyCHICAGO, May 24.—(AP)—The city's public schools will close June two weeks early—to effect a $2,000,000 saving in the financially harassed board of education.
Leaders of the city's unpaid 14,000
teachers regarded the early closing apathetically, expressing the view that "there's nothing we can do about it."
The board within the last month
has distributed to teachers some $15, 000,000—about half the amount owed them for back salaries. The amount in checks and tax anticipation warrants, paid them up until January 1.
Officials said efforts would be made speedily to reduce the amount still owed.Card of Thanks.The family of Mr. J. W. Carlin wish to
